RELIEF AS INDONESIA LIFTS BAN ON PALM OIL EXPORT

In a major relief for India's FMGC sector, exports will resume on Monday, almost a month after the ban went into effect

PRICE FALL IN LOCAL MARKET BEHIND DECISION

Indonesian President Joko Widodo said palm oil's price has fallen from $1.35 per litre to about $1.17 since the ban, which was meant to increase its local supply and reduce the domestic price. The war in Ukraine, which accounts for nearly half of the world's sunflower oil, had put pressure on the global supply of cooking oil, making palm oil prices jump

DOMESTIC SUPPLY TRIPLES: WIDODO

- Once Indonesia announced its export ban, the price of palm oil shot up 200%, putting pressure on India, which imports about 8.5 million tonnes of the commodity annually
- Indonesian leader said the ban has helped triple the supply of palm oil from 64,500 tons to 2,11,000 tons per month

GST Council's decisions not binding: SC

Says Parliament, assemblies free to legislate on it; experts fear it would trigger fresh face-off with Centre

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court opened a can of worms on Thursday when in the course of delivering a verdict in a case, it held that the GST Council's recommendations have only persuasive value and are not binding.

"The Parliament and the state legislatures possess simultaneous powers to legislate on GST. Article 246A of the Constitution does not envisage a repugnancy provision to resolve the inconsistencies between the Central and state laws on GST. The recommendations of the GST Council are the product of a collaborative dialogue involving the Union and states. They are recommendatory in nature," the court observed.

The bench made the observation while upholding a Gujarat High Court order to revoke Integrated GST (IGST) on ocean freight from Indian importers. It held that the IGST paid on ocean freight is unconstitutional and those who have already paid it will be eligible for refund.

Some state finance ministers from non-BJP states had in the past questioned the authority of the GST Council and even termed the GST (in its current form and shape) as against the federalism. In May 2021, Tamil Nadu Finance Minister Palanivel Thiagarajan had berated the GST system and council saying they function with an omnipotent and all-encompassing mandate not envisioned in the Constitution.

Tax experts believe the SC's observation might increase the state vs Centre tussle on many GST issues. Mahesh Jaising, Partner, Deloitte India said, "This would have far reaching implications on various other matters where states are not in agreement with the decisions of the GST Council, especially in light of the compensation period coming to an end in June."

Article 279A of the Constitution specifies that the GST Council will only make recommendations to states and the Centre on taxes, cesses and surcharge levied by them, which may be subsumed in the GST Act.

However, Sushil Modi, who has played a crucial role in shaping the GST as a member of the council while he was finance minister of Bihar, says the court's observation will not make much of a difference. "The Supreme Court's ruling is not new. It is already there in the Constitution. There won't be any adverse implication of this amendment as no state would like to deviate from the majority for the fear of being at disadvantage or being singled out," he said.

DIALOGUE IN FEDERALISM

"Indian federalism is a dialogue between cooperative and uncooperative federalism where the federal units are at liberty to use different means of persuasion," the ruling said

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

THE Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) exams 2022 recorded the highest pass percentage in ten years with 85.63 per cent of a total of 8,53,436 students passing the exams.

Minister for Primary and Secondary Education, BC Nagesh, on Thursday announced although the pass percentage was 99.99 per cent in SSLC 2021, the students were extended concessions through an official assurance that none of the students appearing for the exams would fail in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic affecting the education system.

In the last regular exams conducted in 2020, as many as 72.42 per cent students had passed, he said.

Of the total 7,30,881 of the 8,53,436 students who passed, 3,68,579 (92.44 per cent) were girls and 3,52,752 (86.34 per cent) were boys. However, Nagesh said this year the exams were student-friendly. While earlier at least 20 per cent of the questions were tough, this year only 10 per cent of the questions were difficult.

As many as 40,061 students have been promoted with grace marks, including 35,931 students in one subject, 3,940 students in two subjects and 190 students in three subjects. P4

Court nod for Mathura mosque case

ENS @Lucknow

AMID the ongoing litigation on the Gyanvapi mosque in Varanasi, a Mathura district court on Thursday allowed petitions seeking removal of the Shahi Idgah Masjid abutting the Shree Krishna Janmabhoomi temple.

"The suit to remove the Shahi Idgah mosque on the ground that it was built over the Krishna Janmabhoomi land is maintainable," district judge Rajeev Bharti said, overturning a civil court's order dismissing a bunch of petitions demanding it.

"Right to sue of the plaintiff will stand restored. Case will be restored at its original number," the district court said in its order.

The order came on a revision petition filed by deities Bhagwan Shrikrishna Virajman of Katra Keshav Dev temple and Asthan Shri Krishna Janmbhoomi, through next of friends Ranjana Agnihotri and six others challenging the dismissal order.

In all, three lawsuits were filed.

Structure found in Gyanvapi resembles Shivalinga: Survey

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

A report of a court-ordered survey conducted in the Gyanvapi mosque on May 14-16, which was submitted to a Varanasi civil court on Thursday, claims a black stone cylindrical structure found in the middle of the wuzu (ablution) pond on the premises resembled a Shivalinga, highly placed sources said.

As soon as the cylindrical structure became visible to the court-appointed commission, the plaintiffs and their lawyers started calling it a Shivalinga while the mosque authorities termed it a fountain that was defunct for years, the report adds.

Sources citing the report said the mosque staff failed to give a definite timeline on when the fountain became defunct. Initially, they claimed it was not working for the last 20 years but then they scaled down the figure to 12 years. The mosque staff also failed to make it operational when asked to do so.

On top of the cylindrical structure is an half-inch thick white layer whose radius is 9 inch and has five equal parts. A narrow 63 cm deep hole was noticed at the centre of the cylindrical structure, but the survey team found no arrangement for a water supply pipe for the fountain to function. Sources claimed the cylindrical structure was 2.5 ft high with a radius of 4 ft at the base. The report says when layers of moss deposited over that structure were removed, its black colour became visible.

The survey report also mentions the ground plan, zig-zag cuts inside domes of the mosque and the main mandaps, which matched the map of ground plan of the Aadi Visheshwar temple as printed in multiple books, said sources.

During the survey, a swastik was found on the inner wall near the south pole of the main dome, sources said. Symbols of three damroos were reportedly spotted at the main gate of the mosque. In the north-west direction, a 15 ft x15 ft basement was spotted and it was reportedly covered with debris. Stones lying in the debris had images resembling the architecture of north Indian temples.

The survey report referred to a 3 ft deep pond having 30 taps all around it. At a distance of 83 ft from the pond, an idol resembling Nandi was found.

The report also mentions images of trishul, snake, bells, betel leaves, elephants, bases for housing idols of deities the survey team found, said sources. P9

CM faces angry residents in rain-hit areas

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TWO days after state capital Bengaluru witnessed the second-highest single day rains in May after 1909, which almost brought the city to a halt, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday inspected various developmental projects and low-lying rain-affected areas, even as residents used the opportunity to voice their woes.

After the inspection rounds, the CM took officials of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) to task, mincing no words to let them know about their lackadaisical approach to completing works in time.

Bommai visited JC Road and HBR Layout 4th Block where residents voiced their frustrations with yearly problems caused by the rains and maintenance failures. While speaking to the CM, many complained that rajakaluves and other drains had not been maintained properly and were repeatedly blocking and causing overflows. "We have waited many years for these issues to be fixed, but the progress is very slow. Now we have to suffer whenever it rains," the residents told the Chief Minister. P2

LIVID CITIZENS REMIND BOMMAI OF TALL PROMISES, SLOW ACTION

Residents complain of blocked drains, inundated houses and encroachment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

GOING through a harrowing time after heavy downpour in Bengaluru, residents seized the opportunity to voice their woes when Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai made a brief visit to inspect the rain-ravaged areas in the city.

When Bommai visited Bengaluru West and East, namely JC Nagar's 60 Feet Road and HBR Layout 5th Block, citizens struggled to get past the ring of bodyguards, government officials and media persons. However, some still managed to interact with Bommai, and vent their frustrations.

HBR Layout residents hemmed in the CM armed with documents on various irregularities.

Blocked drains, inundated houses, scourge of encroachments among other issues came to the fore during the interaction.

Residents were irked by litany of promises by government officials, including previous Chief Ministers regarding problems which still persist. Some of the residents who failed to get close to the CM, shouted out their problems.

Residents complained that the drains were ill-maintained and are clogged whenever there are heavy rain.

"We have been waiting for years for these issues to be resolved, but the process is slow. Now we have to suffer whenever it rains," a resident told the CM.

Although the CM and many government officials assured that works will be undertaken at the earliest, residents were not convinced.

When reports of inspection hit social media, many were of the same opinion that inspections did not equal outcomes.

"Every year, it is the same story. Chief Minister will provide food and cash. So far, no government has taken it seriously including the current regime. Dismiss over hundred BBMP officers and BDA should remove encroachments mercilessly from lake footpath, and repair rajakaluves," a social media user said.

Others invited the CM to inspect their areas as well.

Amidst the adversity, some residents tried to click selfies with the CM.

IMD PREDICTS MORE RAIN FOR B'LURU, SOUNDS YELLOW ALERT

Bengaluru: The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has sounded a yellow alert for Bengaluru city for the next three days starting Thursday evening owing to the prevalence of three weather systems. As a result, the city is likely to witness moderate rain till Saturday. Also, a red alert has been sounded for the districts in coastal Karnataka and Davanagere, Shivamogga and Chikkamagaluru districts, said A Prasad, director, IMD, Bengaluru. According to IMD, conditions are favourable for the further advancement of the southwest monsoon into some parts of south and central Bay of Bengal and more parts of Arabian Sea in the next two days. Also, a cyclonic circulation persists over north interior Tamil Nadu. This apart, there is also a north-south trough from central Madhya Pradesh to interior Tamil Nadu running across Marathwada and interior Karnataka. Meanwhile, Bengaluru continued to shiver on Thursday with a maximum temperature of 21 degrees Celsius. IMD officials also said that monsoon is likely to hit Kerala on May 27 and enter Karnataka a week after that.

At 22.4°C, city cooler than Kullu

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

It is no secret that Bengaluru, the Garden City, is known for its hill station-like temperature. But on Thursday, Bengaluru once again became the coolest city in the country, beating even 'The Queen of Hills' Shimla after the maximum temperature was recorded at 22.4 degrees Celsius. While Shimla registered 26 degrees Celsius, it was 33.2 degrees Celsius in Kullu, and closer home in Lonavala it was 30 degrees Celsius.

And it doesn't stop here. Temperature further dipped in Bengaluru and by 8.30 pm on Thursday the mercury read 20 degrees Celsius.

IMD, Bengaluru, officials say that the drop in temperature is because of cloud cover, continuous and sporadic rain and strong winds. They have forecast a maximum temperature of 23 degrees Celsius on Friday.

"This is something unusual... but because of the presence of sufficient moisture in the atmosphere, formation of weather systems and reduced radiation from the earth's surface, the temperature has dropped," said an official. Meanwhile, humidity was 89 per cent in the city and 91 per cent in HAL Airport observatory.

The maximum temperature in the city on Wednesday was 29 degrees Celsius and 28.2 degrees Celsius at Kempegowda International airport. In HAL Airport, it was 28.5 degrees Celsius. The minimum temperatures were 20.2, 20.3 and 19.5 degrees Celsius, respectively.

'Brand Bengaluru' will take a beating: Ex-CM Krishna

Bengaluru: With heavy rain flooding the city, former Chief Minister SM Krishna expressed concern that "Brand Bengaluru" image will take a beating and stifle investment. In a letter to CM Basavaraj Bommai, the senior BJP leader suggested him to reconstitute Bengaluru Agenda Task Force (BATF). He said that rain woes might hamper "Brand Bengaluru" that might in turn reduce investment as investors might move to other states. "When I was the CM, I had stressed on Information Technology, that has led to development of Bengaluru on par with California in the US in terms of generating jobs in IT sector," he wrote. To retain the tag, there is need to take many measures including constituting BATF by involving experts.

Where's the silt? Siddu to govt

Bengaluru: Opposition leader Siddaramaiah came down hard on the BJP government and its handling of flooding in rain-ravaged Bengaluru. On a tour of rain-hit areas on Thursday, he said there is no accountability, despite the fact that the government has spent Rs 160 crore to remove silt from storm water drains. "The government is claiming to have developed roads and drains in Bengaluru, and spent Rs 160 crore to desilt drains over the past two years. Where is the silt which was removed and transported? Don't you have an account of where it was put? People's tax money is flowing from government coffers but has been swallowed up. There are around 700 waterlogging points in eight zones of Bengaluru, and a problem with rainwater canals, which requires scientific understanding to deal with it," Siddaramaiah said.

Will hear out people: HDK

Bengaluru: With Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, leader of opposition Siddaramaiah on the ground after heavy rain battered Bengaluru, JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy on Thursday declared that he too will interact with residents and listen to their grievances on Friday. "CM has been visiting but I will not do so to show off. Instead, I will extend helping hands to the needy. My visits will not be in a hurried fashion as I will hear the people's miseries for hours," he stated. At a meeting, he took a decision to help the people affected.

Map row: BDA cancels notification

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING orders by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda on Thursday cancelled a notification issued by the Authority on May 12, announcing that it would change a water body to a residential area, as a cartographical error had crept into its Revised Master Plan 2015.

The CM's office had tweeted late on Thursday that the earlier notification had been cancelled by BDA, and action would be taken against officers responsible for it.

Water expert S Vishwanathan had drawn attention to the notification with a tweet on how lakes were vanishing from the city.

Short wait for KIA passengers

ENS @ Bengaluru

BIAL on Thursday said the delay in allowing international travellers out of the arrival terminal on Wednesday night occurred after Air India flight AI 266 arrived from Male to Bengaluru with 133 passengers on board. "Security personnel deployed at the gate were unable to immediately open the glass door and sought help from a supervisor, who opened the door. All 113 passengers were able to clear the area fairly quickly," said a spokesperson. The statement expressed regret over the inconvenience caused the passengers.

Drain work will be taken up, says CM

Bommai said families affected by the rain have been identified and will be provided compensation and a week's rations.

He also visited the site of a station on the under-construction Pink Line of Namma Metro.

Speaking to reporters, he said development works for storm water drains (SWDs) was being proposed at a cost of Rs 1,600 crore and a detailed project report (DPR) has been drawn up. He said that as part of the proposed redevelopment of the rajakaluves, the number of sewage treatment plants (STPs) would also be increased. "While there is a need to address individual problems, SWDs need to be overhauled. Many drains have been constructed a long time ago and their capacities cannot handle the heavy rains," he said.

CM pulls up BBMP officials

A visibly irritated CM lashed out at BBMP officials soon after the city rounds on Thursday. The CM minced no words and took the officials to task at the meeting convened at his home office Krishna. Sources said the CM slammed the officials, asking them, "What do you do all year round? ... "Don't you understand that monsoon rains are coming and there are going to be problems?" An angry CM lashed out at them, saying: "Are you sleeping all the year round? Do you wake up only when it rains?"

The CM also severely reprimanded the BBMP engineers, asking them: "Have you forgotten your duty? Don't you know storm water drains need to be desilted before the rains?" He then asked the BBMP to strengthen the technical department and issued stern order to the new commissioner Tushar Girinath. "Get down to the field and work!" he reportedly said.

20th May: I was talking to a journalist the other week and found myself, yet again, being asked how astrology works. I wish I knew! All we know is that it gives good results, describing people's characters better than other systems and sometimes making some quite remarkable predictions. That's good enough for me!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Charitable giving is the order of the day. Somehow, in some way, you must put yourself out on behalf of your fellow man. Expect welcome family news, partly thanks to the Moon's alignment with Jupiter, even if your hopes are raised too high for a time.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

Although current planetary aspects are rather exciting, you are probably past your period of peak activity. Briefly you'll return to a more measured and sedate lifestyle, which could come as something of a relief. The real reason is that you've changed. Quite simply, you're more in control.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

Family relationships are possibly the most important part of your life, and now that you are in the final approach to a set of extremely helpful planetary alignments, you must see to it that you are happy with the general situation. The details you can sort out when the time is right.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

At the best of times you tend to get carried away by your emotions, yet this only works when you are surrounded by people who love you. If you have sceptical colleagues to convince, please be more rational. They'll listen carefully if you stick to the facts.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

You are naturally broad-minded, but you do have an obstinacy which is sometimes unrivalled by any other sign of the Zodiac. My advice to you now is to take other people into your confidence and make compassion, rather then self-interest, your guiding principle.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Partners and business associates appear to be at their most belligerent. They may use every trick in the book to get you to commit yourself to a spending or saving policy that frankly doesn't suit your needs. But there may still be some sense in what they say.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Most of the storm clouds should now have dispersed, allowing you to deal effectively with personal and financial matters. However, certain vague fears and worries are likely to persist until next week. Realise that these may be groundless - and get whatever support and reassurance you need.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

For all your preoccupation with rights and principles, you seem to be strangely reluctant to allow other people the same degree of freedom that you demand for yourself. In these circumstances it is hardly surprising that they should complain. They'll be happy to know that you're listening.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Everyone around you seems to have some complaint or other, and you may feel weighed down by others' moans and groans. Unfortunately, it is part of the Sagittarian's burden to have to cheer up such miserable and pessimistic people. Put a brave face on it!

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

If your work doesn't give you the boost you crave, you must find a new personal outlet. Venus, planet of prosperity is still creating additional prospects for financial gain, especially through joint investments. But remember, the most important consideration is emotional riches, not financial.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

The time has come to make monetary reward the main priority at work. There is no reason why you should be so idealistic as to give up the chance of the pleasure and prosperity that are yours by right. After all, you can't survive on goodwill and you can't eat kind words.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

This is an emotionally supportive time and you have little to complain about. Discreet romantic encounters are on the agenda over the next few weeks, much to your immense pleasure and enjoyment. You just have to make sure that nobody feels as if you have let them down.

Two men attacked with hot pan, one stabbed

Incident took place at a roadside eatery in Jayanagar

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

TWO men, who had gone to have dinner at a roadside egg stall, were brutally attacked with a wok and one of them was stabbed by four armed assailants in Jayanagar on Thursday. Both victims were rushed to a nearby government hospital.

The accused had also come to eat at the stall when a scuffle broke out. Both victims have filed separate complaints.

The police has identified the victims as Karthik, 38, of East End Road and D Manikanta, 28, of Jayanagar 9th block. Both are self employed. While Karthik was discharged from the hospital on Wednesday, Manikanta, who was stabbed, is still undergoing treatment at the Sanjay Gandhi Hospital in Jayanagar.

The incident took between 11.05 pm and 11.25 pm near the East B Main Road and Ring Road Junction in Jayanagar 9th Block on Sunday. The complaints were registered by the police the next morning and the statements of both victims were recorded at the hospital. All four accused were arrested on Wednesday.

The incident reportedly took place when the victims took objection to the nuisance being created by the accused at the stall.

"All four accused, who are first-time offenders, have been arrested and remanded to judicial custody. It all started when the victims stared at the accused while they were creating a ruckus while having egg rice. None of them were under the influence of any drugs or alcohol," said an officer, who is part of the investigating team.

A case of attempt to murder (Indian Penal Code 307) along with other sections of IPC have been registered by the jurisdictional Thilaknagar police.

@Haveri

AFTER absconding for 30 days, the accused of the Shiggaon theatre firing incident was nabbed by the Haveri police on Thursday morning. The accused Manjunath alias Mallik Patil was absconding since the day of the incident on April 19 and was arrested at Mundgod od Uttara Kannada district.

On the day of the incident, Patil had fired on a fellow moviegoer Vasantakumar Mugali at Rajashri theatre, where KGF 2 movie was being screened. The injured is still under treatment in KIMS hospital, Hubballi. Soon after the shooting, the victim was shifted to a local hospital where he was given first aid and then was shifted to KIMS for further treatment. The accused fired three rounds of which two hit the victim. The very next day the police identified the victim and began a search operation. As he was absconding, they formed three teams to search for him. The teams went to Goa, Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad and Maharashtra in search of Patil.

Haveri Superintendent of Police Hanumantharaya said, "With the help of another person Ismail of Bankapur town, Patil got some amount and he kept changing his location frequently and he travelled to Goa, Maharashtra, Bengaluru and Madhya Pradesh. Finally on Thursday morning, when he was in Mundagod bus station, we nabbed him. We also arrested Ismail for helping him."

He added, "We have recovered a pistol, 15 bullets, two empty cokas, a scooter and a mobile from the accused. Though he is not a habitual offender, we will ask the court to remand him into the police custody to investigate where he purchased the illegal weapon from."

Another official said, "The accused had not used his mobile phone and had not contacted any of his family members too. That led to the delay in nabbing him. Apart from the three teams, other teams were also tracking his details."

DOWRY CASE FILED AGAINST IPS OFFICER'S BROTHER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru:

CHANDRA Layout police registered an FIR against Raghavendra D Channanavar, brother of IPS officer Ravi D Channanavar, on charges of dowry harassment and criminal intimidation. Raghavendra's wife has accused him of marrying her relative without her knowledge.

A senior police officer from Chandra Layout said a case was registered based on a complaint by Roja L, and that the case would be transferred to Gadag since the incident took place there. They got married in 2015.

Roja, who hails from Shivamogga and is preparing for the UPSC exams, alleged that her parents had given gold ornaments as dowry to Raghavendra's family. After some time, she came to know that her husband was in a relationship with one of their relatives, and when she questioned him about it, her in-laws advised her to adjust to the situation, as Raghavendra wanted to live with both the women. When she refused, Raghavendra started harassing her to get dowry from her parents.

Roja told TNIE that she had approached Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, as police did not mention a couple of names in the FIR and were being influenced in the investigation.

The Union government has sanctioned Rs 9,000 crore to Karnataka under the Amrut Yojana, said Urban Development Minister B A Basavaraj here on Thursday. Polarisation working in the coast

Survey finds majority, minority communities almost fully radicalised, Cong falls into trap

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

COMMUNAL polarisation in the coastal districts of Karnataka is almost complete, and has led to sharper societal divisions, an independent survey commissioned by a group of political analysts has found.

A qualitative survey spread over four months, surveyed the coastal areas and found that communalisation is part of the social fabric here. This region has long been considered the Hindutva laboratory.

"Polarisation is working," according to the analysts involved in the survey, taken up a little before the Hijab, Halal meat ban and other communal issues were raked up by vested interests in Karnataka. Most of the polarisation could be a result of communally sensitive issues raised in the media and on social media, especially WhatsApp.

The survey found that in Dakshina Kannada, more than 96 per cent among Hindus and 98 per cent among minorities are polarised, while in Udupi district, around 90 per cent of the population of either community is radicalised. In the Malnad belt of Kodagu, Chikkamagaluru, Shivamogga and other parts, the sharply polarised number is much lower at about 85 to 70 per cent.

The survey also found out that the Congress had played into the "polarisation trap" laid out by vested interests -- the lack of maturity with which it dealt with communal issues on many occasions had resulted in an erosion in the party's vote base in these polarised areas. The number of secular voters has shrunk in five or six constituencies.

By contrast, the social base of the JDS -- the Vokkaliga heartland of Old Mysore – remained intact, especially in the districts of Tumakuru, Hassan, Mysuru, Mandya, Bengaluru Rural and Kolar, the survey found.

Rajashekara S, one of the analysts who spent months on the field, told TNIE, "All these findings are from before the period when the Hijab and Halal issues was raised. Perhaps now, after so much polarisation, the results could be sharper and very different.''

In such a charged atmosphere, many conscientious citizens who have been shaken by efforts to inject communal poison into the body politic, have made pleas to the people and also written letters to the authorities, urging them to contain the attempts to communalise Karnataka.

With elections barely 10 months away, this could be one of the many surveys commissioned by different groups to find out the pulse of the voter.

Bajrang event not held on school premises: Mgmt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Madikeri

ZARU Ganapathi, president of the Sai Shankar Institution, Ponnampet, on Thursday refuted reports that the Bajrang Dal's controversial firearms training camp was held on the school premises.

Addressing a press meet on Thursday, he said Bajrang Dal's Shaurya Prashikshana Varga event was held on the premises of the school, but arms training was organised outside.

He said that the school premises had been hosting various events of several organisations during the vacation for many years now. "Similarly, the Bajrang Dal event was hosted this time. However, the school is being defamed due to political gains. The allegations against the school are baseless and I can take those making these allegations to the actual place where the training was held, which is outside the school compound," he said.

Zaru Ganapathi, prez of Sai Shankar Institution

He stated that the school management has always been working towards establishing an amicable atmosphere to students from all communities. "No student or staff from the institution took part in the Bajrang Dal event. The institution has extended education to 140 students affected by floods in 2018. The people who have raised allegations against the institution must rethink," he said.

3 STUDENTS APPLY FOR TRANSFER

To a query, he said three students have applied for Tranfer Certificate (TC) in the school. "It is learnt that a few parents received calls from Dubai and three students have applied for TC following the incident," he confirmed.

Shobha says Siddu divided communities as CM

MYSURU: Hitting out at Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje accused him of not focusing on development during his term as chief minister, but instead on dividing communities. Speaking to reporters during her visit here on Thursday, the Union minister said during his five-year term as CM, he never took decisions that are pro-development. "But instead focused on dividing Lingayats and backward communities, which was the only development during his term. His statements are nothing but gimmicks," she said and mocked Siddaramaiah that he will never become chief minister again. She further pointed out that Siddaramaiah is in loggerheads with KPCC president D K Shivakumar, "both of whom are in the CM race and daydreaming to wrest power", which will never happen. ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

SOCIAL activist and president of Citizens for Democracy (CFD) S R Hiremath has alleged that they have unearthed a land scam involving Demanding resignation of Transport Minister B Sriramulu, who created false documents by influencing officials.

Addressing a press meet here on Thursday, Hiremath, along with Jana Sangrama Parishat president N Vijay Kumar and others, released several documents supporting their claims and urged the Chief Minister to sack the minister from the cabinet.

Hiremath said that a study team of National Committee For Protection of Natural Resources (NCPNR) and Samaj Parivartana Samudaya unearthed a land scam of 27.25 acres in Ballari by creating fake documents of sale agreements and serious abuse of power by influencing senior officials like the deputy commissioner, assistant commissioner in grabbing the land in Ballari city.

"The land scam happened in 2002 but came to light through a recent order of the Ballari court based on an investigation of Lokayukta officials, transferring the criminal case against Sriramulu and others, including government officials to a special court in Bengaluru which was created to prosecute elected representatives," he said.

Express tried to contact Minister Sriramulu, but he was not available for comments.

145 STUDENTS SCORE FULL MARKS

TOPPERS SAY ONLY HARD WORK KEY TO SUCCESS

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

AS many as 145 students, including 21 students from government schools, have scored cent per cent marks in SSLC exams held this year. Of the 145 students, 24 are from Bengaluru schools.

Jayasri B, who is one among the two students from Sri Vidyamandira High School in Malleswaram who scored 625 out of 625 marks, said, "There is no short cut to success. Hard work is the only way." Jayasri thanked her school principal Alakananda S B, father Balaji Subramanyam, a chartered accountant, and mother Jayamangalam, a homemaker, for helping her especially during the pandemic.

"I studied hard everyday and finished each day's portion of syllabus on the same day. During exams, I studied for four hours a day, she said.

When asked about her ambition, she said, "I want to be a chartered accountant like my father and serve the country."

Jayasri, who had won an essay contest organised by US space agency NASA in Bengaluru, was selected for the next level of competition at NASA in the US where she won the Neil Armstrong Award. She is also a violinist who has completed junior carnatic exams with 99 per cent marks and won three gold medals in Sanskrit exams conducted by Sura Saraswathi Sabha of Sringeri Math.

Abhijhna B, who is among three students from Cordial High School in Vijaynagar West who scored cent per cent marks said, "Concentration and five to six hours of hard work everyday helped me in achieving this feat. One needs to study hard and keep revising till the end," she said.

Abhijhna gave the credit of her success to her school principal Sheethal, parents Basavaraju K M, an electrician in a private company, and mother Shailaja Basavaraju, all residents of Moodalpalya. While the family is currently in Mysuru to attend a wedding, her father Basavaraju said he was overwhelmed by her daughter's achievement and added that she was now being treated like a celebrity by relatives.

Disability not a hurdle for 3,762 students

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

DISABILITY was no hurdle for 3,762 differently abled students, who cleared their SSLC examination, including ten of them who scored 611 to 622 marks out of 625.

Nutan Pujar D C (in pic), a visually challenged student of Karnataka Public School of Honnaganahatti of Bengaluru south, who secured 613 out of 625 marks, is among the top 10 students among the differently abled. He aims to take up civil service and be an IAS officer someday. So he plans to take up Arts for PUC. "Instead of blaming our disability on anyone, if we put the best efforts and work hard, success follows," Nuthan said.

Son of Dr Chittaiah pujar, a Kannada professor, and Srilakshmi A G, was visually challenged from birth. His principal Mruthyunjaya G B and father explained how he made the best use of technology and Youtube to prepare for the exams.

Keep an eye on their mental health: Doc

Bengaluru: With regular SSLC exams held after two years due to Covid-19 pandemic, psychiatrists have advised parents to keep a close watch on the mental health of their children, following the announcement of results. Dr John Vijay Sagar Kommu, Senior Consultant, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry suggested that parents should watch out if children face problems with sleep, suffer headache or bodyache, have problems in concentration or experience extreme mood swings. "If these conditions persist for two to three days, parents should seek help from psychiatrists or counsellors. Some children are impulsive and sensitive by nature. Parents should avoid criticising them in front of others.

DKS says exclusion of Bhagat Singh, Narayan Guru part of 'Nagpur Education Policy'

Included patriotic speeches, says Kateel

MYSURU: State BJP president Nalin Kumar Kateel said those opposing the revised Class 10 textbooks are "traitors" and the state government has "included patriotic speeches of RSS leaders" in the school curriculum. "What is wrong with that? Is it an anti-national move?" he asked reporters here on Thursday. He said that it is not important who is the writer, but it is the content that matters. "It is unfortunate that people, who have failed to understand the content and its importance, are opposing the inclusion of (RSS founder) K B Hedgewar's speech. Meanwhile, at a BJP convention of South Graduates Constituency here, he demanded a whitepaper on Congress leader and former chief minister Siddaramaiah's contributions to the development of the state. ENS

CONDEMNING the state government over reported exclusion of lessons on Narayan Guru and Bhagat Singh from school texts, KPCC chief DK Shivakumar on Thursday said it's a result of the implementation of 'Nagpur Education Policy' in the state.

He was speaking at a function organised by the Congress to honour B K Hariprasad and U T Khader on being appointed as opposition leader in the Legislative Council and Deputy CLP leader in the assembly, respectively. Shivakumar said, "It is not the National Education Policy, but Nagpur Education Policy."

BOOK POLITICS

Earlier, slamming the government over the issue, he said the Congress will put the lessons of these great leaders back in textbooks. He criticised Energy Minister V Sunil Kumar and Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary (both belonging to Billava community) for keeping mum over the issue. "If you had any self respect, you should have resigned. But power is important for you and not self-respect," he said.

He slammed the government over the Anti-Conversion Act, Cattle Slaughter Act and others stating that all these laws are aimed at driving a wedge between communities and alleged that the government has not made any attempts to generate employment in the state.

Hariprasad said the Narayan Guru lesson was removed from the school text as he exhorted Shudras to get educated and become independent. "They do not want Shudras to rub shoulders with them. By removing Narayan Guru from text, they want Shudras to keep away from education."

UT Khader said dalits, minorities and backward class people are terrified under the BJP rule in the country and that the present government at the Centre and State are working against the aspirations of Mahatma Gandhi and Dr B R Ambedkar.

NGT bans sale of sand extracted from CRZ in all coastal districts

'It can be used only for levelling low-lying areas of river bed and strengthening bunds'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Udupi

THE National Green Tribunal (NGT), Southern Bench, Chenna,i in its order on May 18, 2022 has barred the sale of sand extracted from Coastal Regulatory Zone (CRZ) in all coastal districts.

Earlier, licensed holders allegedly damaged the natural course of river by extracting the sand bars stating that sand deposits in the rivers obstruct the navigation of fishing boats, and accumulation of silt leads to inundation of neighbouring areas.

The NGT Bench comprising Judicial Member K Ramakrishnan and Expert Member Dr Satyagopal Korlapati said that now if the sand is removed from CRZ to "clear the obstructions in the navigation path of fishing boats", it should not be sold, but can be used only for levelling the low-lying areas of river bed and strengthening river bunds.

According to sources in the Mines and Geology Department in Udupi district, there were 23 sandbars identified earlier in CRZ in Udupi district that were approved by the Karnataka State Coastal Zone Management Authority (KSCZMA). However, permission for four sandbars in Kundapur has lapsed and the remaining are operating till date in Udupi and Brahmavara taluks.

Udupi DC Kurma Rao M told TNIE that action will be taken after the district administration gets a copy of the NGT's order. Sandeep, a senior geologist in Mines and Geology Department, informed that there are three sand blocks in non-CRZ areas - two in Halnadu village and one in Amparu village- in the district.

Environmental activist and convener of National Environment Care Federation (NECF)- Shashidhar Shetty said that NGT has given a commendable order. ''Damaging ecology and looting of sand in the guise of clearing the navigation path of fishing boats will not be possible anymore," he said, congratulating advocate Ranjan Shetty for winning the case before NGT.

Why celebrate Perarivalan's release, ask victims' families

T MURUGANANDHAM @Chennai

EVEN as the Supreme Court verdict releasing AG Perarivalan, one of the convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, was welcomed by many, close relatives of people who were killed in the bomb blast in which the former Prime Minister was assassinated feel that their sacrifice has been let down.

"We can't comprehend the celebration that is going on in Tamil Nadu. Politicians and media are celebrating the release. But they have forgotten about the families of those who died with the former Prime Minister at Sriperumbudur," said S Abbas, son of S Samdhani Begum, a south Chennai Mahila Congress leader who was killed in the blast.

Anusuya Daisy Ernest, one of the police officers who survived the blast, is seething with anger at the release of Perarivalan. "I lost two fingers in the blast and still have shrapnel in my body. Now the CM is hugging him and offering tea to his family. Will the CM ever allow me to see him and address my grievances? I had provided security to many political leaders and I am a Tamil woman. But a family of a convict is enjoying so much freedom. The SC gave relief to a convict but what did the victims gain?" she asked.

D Rajkumar, son of J Dharman, a police constable who was killed in the blast, says, "I am not very bothered about Perarivalan's release. But why is he being celebrated?".

TN govt opens Kanaga Sabhai darshan to all

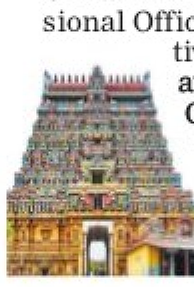
BAGALAVAN PERIER B
@ Cuddalore/Chennai

THE practice of devotees having darshan from the Kanaga Sabhai (Tiruchitrambala Medai) in the Sri Nataraja temple in Chidambaram resumed on Thursday in the presence of a large posse of police personnel, following a G.O. from the State government, amid opposition from the Dikshithars who manage the temple.

The order was issued after the HR&CE commissioner, based on a report from the Cuddalore district Collector, recommended that the practice of worshipping the presiding deity from Kanaga Sabhai be restored.

The practice of devotees having darshan from Kanaga Sabhai was restricted during the pandemic. Even after the government lifted restrictions, the Dikshitars objected to resuming the practice. As various organisations staged protests, a writ petition was filed before the Madras High Court seeking for the practice to be resumed and the court directed the government to take a decision by April 20.

On Thursday, Cuddalore district additional collector Ranjeet Singh held a meeting at Chidambaram Revenue Divisional Office with representatives of the Dikshithars, who opposed the G.O. Sources said the additional collector warned of severe action if the order was not honoured.



Green energy parks, 10GW power plants in next 5 years

ENS @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Energy Minister V Sunil Kumar on Thursday said the state will focus on green energy parks and aim to set up 10 Gigawatt power plants in the next five years. Kumar told reporters, "Our aim is to come up with a hybrid power park. Apart from generating solar and wind energy, the parks will also be used for storage purposes, and 50,000 MW solar power storage will be realized at the earliest. It will give a fillip to PM Narendra Modi's dream project of green energy."

In the coming days, private players entering the solar power generation sector will also be asked to set up power storage. Hybrid parks will come up at Tumakuru, Davanagere, Chitradurga, Gadag, Haveri and Vijayapura, and a survey will also be taken up for this purpose, he said. Kumar said there was no shortage of coal. There is a demand for 14,800 MW power in the state, which has never faced any shortage. Karnataka has supplied 1.80 lakh transformers to ensure there are no power supply issues, he added.

On alleged saffronisation of textbooks and the recent controversy over RSS ideologue Keshav Hedgewar's views in textbooks, he said there is nothing wrong. He clarified that lessons on Shaheed Bhagat Singh and Narayan Guru are intact.

GOING DIGITAL

Now, online transactions a reality for post office account holders

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A LONG-sought after demand by Postal Department savings account holders across the country became operational on Wednesday - online transactions. The uniqueness of it over regular online banking is the requirement of just a single IFSC code to transfer money to any postal account in the country.

India Post has over 8.17 crore savings account holders in the country with Karnataka having 75,82,498 accounts. A postal account holder needs to download the India Post Mobile Banking app on a smart phone and register using the Customer Information File (CIF) ID available on the passbook and the pin number sent on the interlinked mobile number. It can be operated from a desktop computer too.

The India Post Payments Bank (IPPB) account launched in 2017 is linked with one's savings account and presently permits digital transactions and offers options like bill payment, ticket booking, tax payment and so on. While it has a maximum limit of Rs 2 lakh for the account, the savings bank has no limit.

> I will surely try it out. The hassle of visiting the post office for small transactions used to put me off. But if it is going to be like a bank account, it would be very useful for us
> P Karthick, an account holder

It has not yet been formally announced by the department but those who have learnt about the facility through word of mouth are quite happy to use it.

K Rajammal, a pensioner, was one of them. "Though I withdraw my pension using postal ATM, it is tough to go in person regularly to the post office every month if one wants to make recurring or fixed deposits. Now, I can just transfer money to my deposits by going online. It is also a relief that I can interchange money between postal and bank account."

Youngster P Karthick, who had not heard about the app so far said, "I will surely download it and try it out. The hassle of visiting the post office for small transactions used to put me off. But if it is going to be like a bank account, it would be very useful for us."

Those who are not comfortable about using the app can visit post offices and take the help of staff at the counter to carry out the transaction online. When asked about it, a postal department source confirmed that it has become operational but a formal launch was yet to happen.

AS RUPEE WEAKENS, RBI SHOULD AVOID MISTAKES OF THE PAST DECADE

The RBI has suddenly found itself fighting a war, a seemingly unwinnable one at that, against two national enemies—inflation and a weakening rupee. In a battle, it's all about the first punch, which the central bank did launch by raising policy rates and selling dollars. Sadly though, both solutions are unlikely to address the root problem. While the former helps anchor inflationary expectations and not price rise itself, the latter won't arrest the rupee's rout, but can only smoothen out market volatility, which is also the RBI's stated position. The Indian currency has been witnessing a steady decline in line with emerging market currencies, and lost about 4% against the dollar since the start of 2022. It may be noted that a 5% depreciation of the rupee from its baseline assumption would add 20 bps to inflation, which is already troublesome enough.

The outlook for rupee is being weighed down by rising interest rates, strengthening of the greenback and the anticipated higher current account deficit, which is likely to hit a 10-year high of 3% of GDP this fiscal. On the bright side though, currency depreciation eases current account pressures by curbing imports and boosting exports. Some also believe the rupee is overvalued, and hence the RBI should allow it to find its own level. A few private estimates peg the rupee to touch 80 in the near term, while over the long run, it could go past 90 by FY29, as per the IMF. A weakening currency can test the nerves of policymakers, even when RBI has built sizeable precautionary forex reserves, which fell from $640 billion last October to about $595 billion now, to fend off any pressure on the rupee. But experience from the past isn't as encouraging. During the 2013 taper tantrum when the US Federal Reserve decided to withdraw surplus liquidity, the rupee fell 15% in just three months flat. This was despite having sufficient stock of reserves. While the central bank did start out with good intentions, building buffers then and even now, it should avoid repeating the mistakes of the past decade.

BRAND BENGALURU NOT RAIN READY YET

Karnataka's capital Bengaluru took 10 cm of rain in just 90 minutes in its central business district on Tuesday, bringing the city to a halt. On average, the city recorded 13 cm of rain in a day—the second highest in a single day in May since 1909. Waterlogged areas and flooded arterial roads wrought havoc on the city.

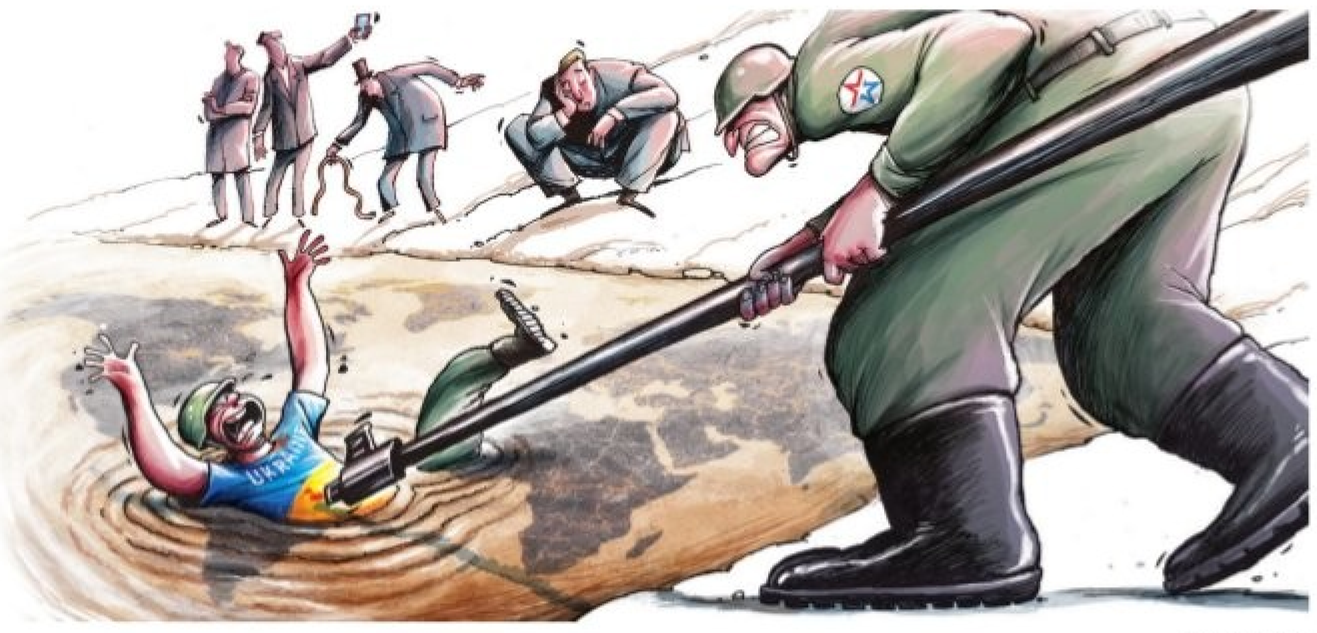
When such an event occurs, political powers go into overdrive. The opposition goes hammer and tongs at the government. The latter goes on the defensive. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai—who also holds the portfolio of Bengaluru Development—assured the people that the city was prepared with rain-ready infrastructure and that temporary flooding was bound to happen because of its topography.

It does not matter which political party is ruling, action and reaction from both sides remain the same each time torrential rains hit the city. Political focus is at best myopic when it comes to city planning. Senior BJP leader S M Krishna, who has been the state's chief minister (1999–2004) and then Union external affairs minister (2009–2012), wrote a letter to Bommai expressing concern over rains impacting the image of Brand Bengaluru. Krishna, credited with promoting Bengaluru as the "Silicon Valley of India", has expressed fears about rains exposing the chinks in the existing infrastructure, hampering investment flow to Bengaluru and Karnataka.

But what is overlooked is that Bengaluru never saw flooding of a serious nature until after the 1980s—the decade witnessing a surge in influx into the city. This forced a proliferation of residential and commercial infrastructure. The pursuit of the real estate sector waylaid infrastructure development to make Bengaluru flood-proof and rain-ready. Haphazard road development obstructed water from percolating into the ground. Apart from this, the efficiency of the city's four river valleys on its outskirts in draining floodwaters—Hebbal, Vrishabhavathi, Koramangala and Challaghatta—was compromised as these turned into drains due to increasing pollution and uncapped inflow of sewage and industrial/domestic pollutants into them. These no longer drain the city's floodwaters as they did in the past. Bengaluru may just be the best example for smaller cities across India to learn a lesson from—by not emulating its model of development.

Redlines and punishment mechanisms are always the prerogative of the great powers. And Ukraine is just the latest example

INTERNATIONAL NORMS DESTROYED BY UKRAINE CRISIS



SOUMYADIP SINHA

P R KUMARASWAMY

Professor at JNU. Teaches contemporary Middle East there

Soon to enter its fourth month, the Russian invasion of Ukraine has made irreversible damages to global norms and order. There were similar occurrences in the past when national and regional developments threatened to weaken the rules-based order. Irrespective of their actual behaviours, great powers at least offered lip service to rules, norms and peaceful resolution of disputes. Not anymore. Diplomacy, soft power and morality are replaced by the re-emergence of raw military power. Only great powers write the international order—but since times immemorial, they have never been accountable for the very laws they formulate. Some justify aggression in the name of international peace and security, and others brandish narrow national interests. Either way, the redlines and punishment mechanisms are always the prerogative of the great powers. And Ukraine is the latest example.

Russia's two-decade-old economic revival has now taken an ominous militant form. Even if the eastward expansion of NATO is an existential threat, the way President Vladimir Putin sought to challenge it is a warning for other great powers and vulnerable smaller countries; great power will continue to rewrite the international order, and weaker ones are condemned to suffer the consequences. This asymmetrical order was not the dream of the Yalta conference, which sought to end the scourge of wars.

Two, the cavalier manner several public figures flag the possibility of World War III, and nuclear confrontation, should dispel any notions of international norms. In the past, only maverick leaders made such statements filled with bravado. One can't escape this uncomfortable question: Was Ukraine foolish and shortsighted to give up and destroy its nuclear weapons in 1994 and join the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) as a non-nuclear-weapon state, just four years before the South Asian tests? Similar questions were raised over North Korea and Iraq. Now the Russian invasion of non-nuclear and helpless Ukraine sends an unmistakable message to hardliners in Iran: giving up the nuclear option or compromising enrichments will be an open invitation for external interventions in the Islamic republic.

Three, the Ukraine crisis underscored individual and collective hypocrisies. Legitimising the Russian invasion has unintended consequences. Saddam Hussein justified his invasion of Kuwait on the grounds of the latter siphoning off Iraqi oil through slant drilling. Now Putin sees NATO expansion as a redline that must not be crossed. Like individuals, nations are also short-sighted; the Crimean crisis of 2014 should have warned the Western strategic community of the Russian capabilities and calculations. Even if the political leaders were indulging in wishful thinking, there should have been plans for the worst-case scenario. Unfortunately, Washington did not do its homework before contemplating the expansion of NATO so close to the Russian heartland.

Four, as the organisation of sovereign states, the UN is not a perfect body. Yet, it has been striving to limit conflicts and move the world towards a more equitable order based on justice. The Ukraine crisis has pushed the UN back by several decades. In 1956, the UNSC was paralysed over the Suez crisis, as Britain and France, the major invaders of Egypt (along with Israel), were permanent members. Hence, the issue moved to the UN General Assembly, which overwhelmingly condemned and isolated the former colonial powers. However, the real force was US President Dwight Eisenhower, who strongarmed and reversed the tripartite aggression. The situation is different today. Backed by China, Russia has paralysed the UNSC, and the UN General Assembly is ineffective without a global hegemon. International condemnation and isolation of Russia make headlines but are not sufficient to influence Putin.

Five, the Ukraine crisis reminds us of the flip sides of leaders with unbridled powers. As the invasion drags on, Russia's lack of pre-war preparation is visible. The invasion was not a well-planned military strategy, and Russian generals were perhaps bullied into submitting to political diktats. If regime change in Ukraine was the goal, the Russian generals are executing it badly. Since the days of Carthage, wars have had one golden rule: you can initiate a war, but you can't write its end.

Six, popular and intellectual anti-Americanism has paved the way for widespread justification of the Russian invasion. While the crisis has exposed the policy limitations of the US and the West, any move to rationalise the Russian action has one danger. Will the Ukraine crisis be a carte blanche for similar actions by other powers vis-a-vis their hapless neighbours? In short, will Putin be a 'precedent' for Chinese President Xi Jinping to enforce his will on Taiwan?

Seven, uncertainties of the final outcome have compelled several countries, including India, to take refuge under political realism and temporarily bury core issues like the inviolability of sovereignty and territorial integrity. Instead, they settle for hedging to minimise the negatives and maximise their gains. Instead, this crisis should be an opportunity to explore and expand policy choices for the future.

With neither side prepared to climb down, an early end to the Ukraine crisis seems elusive. Meanwhile, without a serious political implosion in either country, the world is condemned to endure the political, economic and diplomatic consequences of the crisis and the systematic dismantling of the post-World War II international order.

UNIQUE DEPICTIONS OF RAVANA IN K'TAKA'S MAHAKUTA

R H KULKARNI

Professor, Department of Art History, College of Fine Arts, Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath

The Ravana Anugraha is a popular sculpture scene where Ravana—with his ten heads and multiple arms—lifts the whole Kailash on which Siva and Parvathi are seated along with their entourage.

In popular culture, Ravana is portrayed as a powerful demon king from Lanka. Sculptors often depicted him with 10 heads and 20 arms. An ardent devotee of Lord Siva, he composed the Ravana Siva Tandava Mantra. In the Ramayana, Ravana is defeated and killed by Rama, who takes the help of Sugriva and Hanuman. Brahmanda Purana has a lengthy narrative about Ravana. The Purana narrates his life story with important events like his penance, the cutting of his heads, Atma Linga (soul of Siva), etc.

The Badami Chalukya sculptors were very imaginative in their portrayal. They depicted the Ramayana narrative for the first time in Badami's Upper Sivalaya temple (c. 580 CE). The Mahakuteshwara temple (596–600 CE) in Mahakuta, one of the important regions of the Chalukya dynasty, has beautiful narratives showing Ravana's devotion, the first time such depictions appear in peninsular India. Apart from sculptures of Siva, Mahakuta also has the Vishnupushkarini (Deva Droni), an ancient water pond that is surrounded by temples. Interestingly, Mahakuta also has an inscription from 596 CE that mentions King Mangalesha's victory over the Kalachuris, along with references to idol procession and certain grants.

Ravana's devotion was depicted on the adhisthana of the Mahakuteshwara temple; such carving narratives on the temple basement space became a feature in the early medieval period in India. The temple has narrative sculptures carved on the hara (garland) portion of the adhisthana (pedestal) of the temple. In addition to this, the temple has depictions of events from the Mahabharata, along with sculptures of Indra Sabha and various deities.

When it comes to Ravana's devotion towards Siva, three narratives are depicted in Mahakuta. The popular story goes that Ravana's mother wanted to erect a Siva Linga. He told her that instead of erecting the Linga out of ordinary stone, he would get the Atma Linga of Siva. In the unique Mahakuta sculpture, Siva and Parvathi are seated on Mount Kailash. Ravana stands on one foot to please him and receive the Atma Linga. He even holds a garland all around his body and performs the hatha yoga penance in front of Siva and Parvathi.

In the second narrative, Ravana becomes more aggressive: he firmly sits on the ground and cuts each of his heads and offers it to Siva, who is seated on Nandi with Parvathi, who looks on anxiously. But each time he chops his head, Siva bestows him with a new head. He does this 10 times; so, Ravana is known as Dasha Kantha (ten-headed).

The third, in continuation with the earlier narratives, is one in which Ravana lifting Kailash is depicted as a separate episode. The theme is very popular; it has been depicted by sculptors of various periods and appears for the first time in Mahakuta. The figure of Ravana is compactly composed within the space of the narrative panel. He is seated on the ground holding the weight of Kailash where Siva and Parvathi are seated. Holding weapons, Ravana spreads his hands architectonically. Mount Kailash is depicted in detail and spread semicircularly in the space. The artist has visualised the theme realistically and one can feel the weight of the mountain in the bodily posture of Ravana.

A similar image of Ravana lifting Kailash is depicted on the southern-side mantapa pillar in Pattadakkal's Virupaksha temple (734 CE). This highly realistic depiction shows Ravana's feet partially sinking into the ground while he lifts Mount Kailash.

Then there is the later Rashtrakuta monument at Ellora that has a 12-feet-tall image of the scene. Ravana lifting Kailash with Siva and Parvathi seated on the hill became a popular subject and has been depicted by artists in later periods as well.

Why not cut ties?

Following the release of Perarivalan, one of the seven convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, Tamil Nadu Congress President K S Alagiri has urged Congress cadre to hold a peaceful protest, with their mouths covered, to express their sentiments over the killing of the former prime minister. If Alagiri is really serious, why can't his party sever its ties with the DMK, whose leaders have embraced Perarivalan so openly and expressed their happiness?

P G Menon, Chennai

Extraordinary powers

The Supreme Court has invoked the extraordinary powers under Article 142 of the Indian Constitution, to release Perarivalan. It was observed that the inexplicable delay over the exercise of powers under Article 161 led to a judicial review. His release is neither about acquittal from conspiracy to murder nor an exoneration.

The provisions of Article 142 are undoubtedly under the jurisdiction of the apex court, but since the culprit has not been proven innocent after assassinating a former PM of the nation, this ought not to have been done.

R S Venkhatraman, email

Another tragedy

It is very disheartening to read that 12 workers died after a wall collapsed in a salt factory in Morbi, Gujarat. Similar incidents have been reported earlier, where hundreds of precious lives were gutted in fire in many reputed hospitals. Although there are rescue operations, compensations and inquiries, the lives lost can't be brought back. Usually, the gadgets in factories, hospitals and apartments lose their efficiency fast. A regulatory board is needed to inspect the machines from time to time.

Chanchal Mishra, Odisha

Verdict based on facts

Equality should never be compromised in the name of religion. While Hindu organisations have said that a Siva Linga has been found in the Gyanvapi mosque, the Muslim community is calling it a fountain structure.

The court needs to give a verdict based on facts.

Vishal Mayur, Tumakuru

Cong exodus continues

The resignation of Patidar leader Hardik Patel from the Congress is indicative of the grand old party's detachment from reality and the suffocation that party cadre are putting up with, in the absence of any decisive direction from the high command. Another Congress leader, Sunil Jakhar from Punjab, has joined the BJP recently. Meanwhile the party's former president Rahul Gandhi is reported to have said that those who wanted to leave the Congress can do so. This is ridiculous.

S Lakshmi, Hyderabad

A play from the past

Director Rafeeq Mangalasseri's revised play Ejj Nalloru Manusanakan Nokk (You try to be a good human being) is relevant even after 69 years considering the social and religious practices imposed on Muslim women. But it also throws light on farmers' protest against feudalism. Where is feudalism in Kerala now? In that aspect, the play can only be reminiscent of past history.

Court gets ‘sealed’ report on Gyanvapi

SC asks Varanasi court not to proceed with Gyanvapi hearing till it takes up the matter today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi/Lucknow

THE cases involving Varanasi’s Gyanvapi mosque have gone to courts – from the Supreme Court to Varanasi civil judge. The apex court will resume tomorrow its hearing in the plea challenging the survey ordered by the Varanasi court. In Varanasi, a court-appointed special assistant commissioner on Thursday submitted a 15-page survey report on the mosque premises.

The SC adjourned the case on Thursday after Vishnu Shankar Jain, appearing for the original plaintiffs (Hindu parties), informed the court about his indisposition. The court took on record the submission by the advocate that the proceedings before the trial court would not be pressed further until the SC takes up the matter on Friday.

In the holy city, advocate Vishal Singh submitted the survey report before the Varanasi civil judge (senior division) court in the presence of the members from both the parties involved in the litigation.

However, following Thursday’s SC order, civil judge Ravi Kumar Diwakar posted the matter for May 23. The court will on that day take up the video survey report, the objections of Anjuman Intejamia Masajid (AIM) and women petitioners’ pleas submitted on Tuesday.

“We have filed a video chip too in a sealed cover,” Vishal Singh told the media. “My job is complete. I will now appear before the court only if I am called by it,” said Singh. Three sealed boxes containing maps, chips of photos and video clips of the survey conducted on May 6-7 and May 14-16 were submitted to the court.

One of the lawyers of the petitioners in the case, Man Mohan Yadav, claimed that eight 32 GB chips, 1,500 frames of still photographs and 10 hours of video recordings were sealed in the boxes.

Sources said the report was kept in custody of the court which ordered a copy of it to the AIM and other plaintiffs. Moreover, the court sought objection from all parties to the report. The pleas which were submitted on Tuesday included district government counsel (civil) Mahendra Prasad Pandey’s demand for shifting the pipeline and ‘wuzu’ taps, alternative arrangements for toilets for namazis and shifting of fish from the sealed pond. On the other hand, the Hindu plaintiffs had demanded razing of some walls of the mosque basement to measure the size of the ‘shivling’ and collection of more evidence.

1942: Allahabad HC upheld the order on April 10

MANDIR CLAIM REVIVED IN THE NINETIES

1991: On Oct 15, a group of petitioners including local priests, filed a suit in a Varanasi court claiming the mosque was built by Aurangzeb after the destruction of a portion of Kashi Vishwanath Temple. Petitioners demanded that the entire complex be handed over to Hindus

1998: Two petitions filed on behalf of Anjuman Intezamia Masjid and UP Sunni Waqf Board, Lucknow, against this order in Allahabad High Court

2021: On April 8, a local court in Varanasi directed Archaeological Survey of India to conduct a survey of Gyanvapi after 5 women moved court demanding they be allowed to pray to Maa Shringar Gauri idol in the masjid complex

May 6-7: Videography & survey began but was stopped after the team was denied entry by protesters; Anjuman Intezamia Masjid Committee moved local court seeking replacement of the advocate commissioner

May 12: Court rejected the plea to change the court-appointed advocate commissioner; appointed two additional advocate commissioners to assist him

May 13: SC refused to stop the survey of survey, asks the process to be video-taped

May 14-16: Survey resumed and concluded in three days; petitioners claim a Shivalinga found

GYANVAPI AND THE LAW

Lawyers representing Gyanvapi managing committee claimed the survey of the complex was violative of the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991, which stipulates that the religious character of a place of worship as it existed on August 15, 1947, cannot be changed. Hindu groups claim that the Act doesn’t apply to Gyanvapi. In the light of the survey team’s findings, it has to be seen how the SC will look at the whole issue

Group seeks Bhopal Jama Masjid survey

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE next city after Varanasi to get embroiled over a mosque is Bhopal. A local right wing Hindu outfit Sanskriti Bachao Manch, while claiming that the Jama Masjid located in old Bhopal’s Chowk Bazar locality was built in the 19th century on a Shiva Temple, has sought from the state government, a detailed archaeological survey of the mosque.

The outfit’s head Chandrashekhar Tiwari met the state’s home minister Narottam Mishra on Thursday and submitted a memorandum, demanding survey of the Jama Masjid. He is also preparing to file a petition in the local court over the issue.

“We’ll petition the court in Bhopal, seeking survey and excavation in the mosque to bare its history of having been built over a remple,” Tiwari said. “What we are stating is not based on fanciful thinking, but is based on facts mentioned in the Hayate-I-Qudsi (book on Bhopal’s first woman ruler Nawab Qudsia Begum).”

CONSPIRACY

JKLF’s Yasin Malik convicted in 2017 terror funding case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

YASIN MALIK, the chief of the banned Jammu and Kashmir Liberation Front (JKLF) outft, was on Thursday convicted under the stringent anti-terror law by a Delhi court. The case related to the funding of terror activities in Jammu and Kashmir. Malik had pleaded guilty to all charges framed against him. Special Judge Praveen Singh posted the matter for May 25 for the quantum of punishment. He also directed the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to assess Malik’s financial condition to determine the amount of fine that could be imposed.

Charges were framed against Malik in March, following which he informed the court on May 10 that he would not be contesting the charges levelled against him. Malik faces the maximum punishment of a death penalty, while the minimum sentence for the offences committed by him is life imprisonment.

The case pertains to the conspiracy by Lashker-e-Taiba (LeT) chief Hafiz Saeed and separatist leaders, including members of the Hurriyat Conference, who had acted in connivance with active members of banned terrorist organisations Hizbul Mujahideen, Dukhtaran-e-Millat and others to collect funds domestically and from abroad through various illegal channels, including hawala.

The funds were meant for separatist and terrorist activities in Jammu and Kashmir to cause disruption in the Valley by way of pelting stones on security forces, burning schools, and damaging public property.

Malik is also facing other cases, including two in the CBI about the gunning down of IAF personnel in 1990 and the kidnapping of Rubaiya Sayeed, daughter of the then Home Minister Mufti Mohammed Sayeed in 1989.

India is new hope of the world today, says PM

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

FROM the best-known address of Gujarat’s Vadodara, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday declared India is the new hope for the world today. Modi was virtually addressing the ‘Yuva Shivir’ being organized by Shree Swaminarayan temples in Kundaldham and Karelibaug.

“From delivering vaccines and medicines to the world during the pandemic to the hope of building Atmanirbhar Bharat amid disrupted supply chains, to building a nation capable of establishing peace in the midst of global conflicts, India is the new hope for the world,” said the PM. “When the world is facing problems like climate change, India offers solutions from its traditions of sustainable living,” Modi said. “A new India, whose identity is forward-looking combined with ancient traditions, can offer a direction to the entire world.”

“Today, bringing about change in the lives of the poor or even our neighbors is like doing the duty for the nation,” Modi said, pointing out that increased people’s participation has changed government’s working style and the thinking of society. Now India has the world’s third-largest startup system that is being led by the youth of India.

Appealing for a cashless economy, he asked, “Can we stop cash transactions by Aug. 15, 2023? Your small contribution can create a huge difference for small businesses and vendors.”

He asked citizens to take up cleanliness and prevention of use of single-use plastic, and mentioned a campaign launched by a Nagaland girl for cleaning the Kashi ghats. She started alone, but many people have now joined her, he said.

‘NATIONALIST’ JAKHAR JOINS BJP WITH ‘A HEAVY HEART’

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi/Chandigarh

AMID speculation about his Rajya Sabha entry, former Punjab Congress chief Sunil Jakhar joined the BJP on Thursday, days after announcing his 50-year break-up with the grand old party.

BJP chief JP Nadda gave the primary membership of the party to Jakhar, describing him as the politician with a “nationalist identity.”

The Punjab leader belongs to Abohar from where he has been elected thrice as MLA. His father Balram Jakhar was the Lok Sabha Speaker. The senior Jakhar was also a cabinet minister in Indira Gandhi’s team. He had stood by the then PM when she faced a big challenge to her political career post-Emergency in the late 1970s.

“I’ve been associated with Congress since 1972. When the party deviated from its ideology and started throttling my voice, I had to disassociate myself with a heavy heart.”

Nadda termed Jakhar’s entry as a matter of happiness. “Jakhar managed to establish an identity away from the party. In Punjab there are important issues like drugs and terrorism. It is important that the people who have national interest in mind join the BJP,” he said.

Sharing reasons for joining the BJP, Jakhar said PM Modi had won the hearts of millions of Punjabis after he addressed the nation on the occasion of the 400th anniversary of Guru Teg Bahadur from the ramparts of the Red Fort. “I recently had a chance to seat close to the PM. I noticed his nationalistic moorings which have brought me here today,” said Jakhar. Jakhar had been camping in the national capital since he quit the Congress on Saturday.

Sources close to him said he might be nominated to the Rajya Sabha and would be given some responsibility in Punjab. He can be instrumental in bringing more disgruntled Congress leaders to the saffron fold.

Former CM Amarinder Singh said the exodus from the Congress would continue and hat the party was headed to an imminent doom. “Honest and upright leaders like him (Sunil) cannot breathe in the Congress anymore,” he said, adding, “that space (the Congress) has grown too suffocating”.

Now, BJP begins Chintan to chalk poll strategies

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP’s proposed 3-day ‘Chintan-Shivir’, happening from May 19 to 21 at Jaipur in the Congress-ruled Rajasthan, will shape a new round of party strategies for the upcoming polls in Gujarat, MP, Rajasthan, Karnataka, Chhattisgarh and Himachal Pradesh with a renewed vigour to expose both the Congress and the AAP. A grand preparation has been made for the gathering of the party’s more than 150 senior leaders and office-bearers.

“The Jaipur meeting will bring us Jai Jai (victory) in all states in the upcoming assembly elections and the LS elections also in 2024. We have vision to translate into politics for prosperity and peace,” said a senior leader on Wednesday after the meeting of Rajasthan BJP’s core committee concluded.

Arun Singh, in charge of Rajasthan BJP, told the media that all national vice-presidents, presidents of all fronts and state presidents and organisational heads besides several former ministers and other senior leaders from across the country will attend the meeting. National party president JP Nadda will inaugurate the meeting on May 19. On May 20, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the meeting virtually.

“We want to come into power in all states, Rajasthan included, through people’s supports against the Congress’ misrules,” a leader said. Lashing out at the Rajasthan government, Arun Singh said that state has fallen in the grip of crimes, atrocities against women and the Schedule Castes. “The BJP has emerged as the hope of Rajashthan people,” he added.

GRAND WELCOME

BJP national president JP Nadda was welcomed by party workers at many places on his way to the venue in Kukas from the airport. As many as 75 reception gates were made on the way, on which Modi government’s achievements were displayed.

BIGWIGS TOGETHER

A total of 135 office bearers, including vice president, general secretary, and national spokesperson will be present during the 3-day event. On May 21, BL Santhosh, National General Secretary (Org), will hold a meeting of BJP chief ministers.

Must respect territorial integrity, India stresses at BRICS meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister, Dr S Jaishankar, while highlighting the key points during the BRICS foreign ministers meeting held virtually on Thursday said members must respect territorial integrity. This statement comes at a time when reports based on satellite images suggests that China has begun to construct a second bridge across Pangong Lake.

Jaishankar highlighted eight key points. “BRICS has repeatedly affirmed respect for sovereign equality, territorial integrity and international law. We must live up to these commitments,'' he said, adding that BRICS must display zero tolerance for terrorism, specially cross-border terrorism.

The other key points included seeking socio-economic recovery from Covid pandemic and creating resilient and reliable supply chains, and the effects of the Ukraine conflict on costs of food and energy.

The meeting was chaired by China’s FM, Wang Yi, FM of Brazil, Carlos Alberto Franco Franca, FM Russia Sergey Lavrov and Minister of International Relations South Africa Grace Naledi Mandisa Pandor.

Meanwhile, about the issue of the second bridge on Pangong Lake, MEA spokesperson, Arindam Bagchi, told the media, “We have had talks at various levels with China, including when China’s foreign minister Wang Yi visited India in March. Frictions have emerged from Chinese deployment since April 2020 and that cannot be reconciled. We will continue to engage with China through diplomatic and military talks. We cannot comment on what the construction is on occupied territory -- not sure whether it is another bridge or an extension of the earlier one --- we are monitoring.''

No separate squadrons for NDA women cadets

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE first batch of women cadets joining the National Defence Academy (NDA) will be housed together with male cadets. They will be sharing the premises of the squadrons with the male cadets.

“The fresh batch of cadets, including the 19 women, will join the NDA in June,” an officer said. This includes 10 cadets in the Army, six in the Air Force and three in the Navy.

Explaining the reason behind the decision, another officer said, “Had the women been housed in separate squadrons it would have defeated the purpose of joint training.”

Women were allowed in the NDA after SC’s intervention. “Initially, the women cadets will be housed in buddy pairs, and the same number of cadets will join further,” said the officer.

The NDA is a training institution where the cadets opt for permanent Commission into the Army, Air Force and Navy. The academic calendar is divided into six terms and a group of 120-140 cadets lives together in a block, which is called squadron.There are a total of 18 squadrons, with 20-30 cadets from each term staying together. All the competitions and joint training are organised among these squadrons.

The women cadets passing out of the NDA will be granted permanent commission from their service academies. The Air Force has opened all the streams, including the fighter pilot, for women. In the Army, women join in the support arms and services, since Infantry, Armored and Artillery are not open for them yet. In the Navy, they will be commissioned into all streams except submarine and warships.

35K rly station masters threaten strike

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

RAIL movement across the country may get hugely affected on May 31, if thousands of station masters carry out their plan to go on a day-long strike. Around 35,000 station masters are demanding that the Railways meet their demands before the month-end.

The All India Station Masters Association has been demanding fulfilment of their demands since October 2020. Speaking to TNIE, general secretary of AISMA, P Sunil Kumar, said a notice on the issue has already been given to the Railway Board chairman.

“The day-long mass-off is not an abrupt decision,” Kumar said. “We have been communicating our demands through peaceful activities. We wore black badges for a week in October 2020 and discharged our duties, ensuring smooth operation of trains, “ Kumar said, adding that the station masters had staged a day-long hunger strike on Oct. 31, 2020. On May 18 this year, a poster campaign was also held at Vadodra by them.

“When all the peaceful methods of grievance settlement have failed, we are compelled to take this extreme step,” Kumar said, adding that a large number of posts have been lying vacant for a long time in all 68 divisions of the Railways.

Stationed demands

- Restoration of Night Duty Allowance without ceiling.
- Filling up of all vacancies
- Modified Assured Career Progression Scheme benefit for station masters with effect from Jan 1, 2016, instead of Feb 16, 2018
- Restructuring cadre with revised designations
- Grant of safety and stress allowances

Over 7 lakh affected by Assam flood

Army, air force join rescue operations as major rivers in the region flow above danger level

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

WITH flood and landslides snapping rail and road communications in Assam's hill district of Dima Hasao, the state government took the help of the Indian Air Force (IAF) to rescue the affected and dispatch essential items.

The Army also joined the operation, rescuing around 900 marooned people in Hojai district. The situation statewide remained grim amid incessant rains for the past week. Rivers such as Brahmaputra, Kopili, Disang, Kushiyara and Barak were in a spate, flowing above danger levels.

Over 7.17 lakh people in 29 of the state's 34 districts have been affected. Nine persons have lost their lives so far – four in flood and five in landslides. Five others are reported missing.

GD Tripathi, chief executive member of the Assam State Disaster Management Authority, told this newspaper the IAF dispatched 12 metric tonnes of foodgrains to Dima Hasao on Thursday. The first consignment on Wednesday was of four metric tonnes.

"Supplies have started going to (district headquarters) Haflong after the National Highways Authority of India opened the road yesterday," Tripathi said. "Whatever disruptions happened as regards the NH and the railway in Dima Hasao, we are putting all-out efforts to restore them," he added.

Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said it would take 45 days to restore train services in Dima Hasao. Trains pass through this district to run further to southern Assam's Barak Valley and Tripura.

Meanwhile, Guwahati-based Regional Meteorological Centre (RMC) warned of widespread rainfall in the next two days. "Moisture incursion from the Bay of Bengal is likely to continue over to Northeast India due to low-level southerly/ south-westerly winds during 19-21 May 2022. Under the influence of above system, widespread rainfall accompanied with thunderstorm/lightning and heavy to very heavy rainfall at isolated places is very likely over Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram and Tripura," the RMC said in a statement.

Apex court grants interim bail to SP leader Azam Khan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday granted interim bail to Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan in a case of forgery and criminal conspiracy. Khan has been directed to file an application for regular bail within a period of two weeks from Thursday's order.

The plea for regular bail shall be decided by the competent court on its own merits without being influenced by any of the observations made in the present order, the apex court said.

"… We are therefore of the view that this is a fit case wherein this court should exercise its jurisdiction under Article 142 of the Constitution of India and grant interim bail to the petitioner in the peculiar facts and circumstances of the case, till he files the application for regular bail and the same is considered by the competent court," the apex court said.

Article 142 of the Constitution deals with the Supreme Court's power to pass the order for doing complete justice in a cause pending before it.

The top court had earlier expressed displeasure over the delay in hearing the bail application of Khan, saying this is a travesty of justice.

The interim bail granted to the petitioner by the present order shall continue to operate till the decision of the regular bail plea, and in the event that the regular bail application is decided against the interest of the petitioner, the present interim bail shall continue to operate for a further period of two weeks from the date of the order of the regular bail order.

The order comes on a petition seeking interim bail in a case registered under sections 420 and 120B of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, at Rampur Police Station in Uttar Pradesh.

Khan's counsel contended that in all 87 criminal cases/ FIRs have been filed against him and of them 84 were filed after the present government came into power in 2017. The counsel alleged that these cases were filed the ruling party with a mala fide intention.

Online classes to fill learning gaps

Several government schools are holding online classes during the summer vacation, which this year started earlier than usual on May 2 because of the scorching heat spell. The schools feel their students should not lose touch with studies and be prepared for the summative tests that they have to write when the schools reopen on June 16. A headmistress of a state-run school said the learning gaps detected in students based on their performance in the summative tests held last month should be addressed and online classes were the least they could do to plug the gaps. The schools said they had left it to the students to decide whether they intend to join the online classes.

State varsities start offline exams again

Jadavpur University started holding end-semester exams in the offline mode across all faculties. An emergency meeting of the university's executive council was held after the education department left it to the universities to decide the mode of exams. The engineering faculty has held exams in offline mode in most of the papers so far. The science faculty has started offline exams. The arts faculty started holding its end-semester exams in person. Rabindra Bharati University started holding its end-semester examinations offline from Wednesday. But two other universities, Vidyasagar University and Kalyani University opted for the online exams.

Local BJP may struggle to meet flag target

BJP's Bengal chapter has been given the target of hoisting national flags at 75 places in the Lok Sabha and Assembly constituencies won by the saffron camp on the day of Independence Day. The party's central leadership decided to hoist National flag at 75 places in the BJP-ruled states and asked the Bengal unit to follow the same. Sources in the party said there are many Assembly constituencies which are under the control of the ruling Trinamool Congress in the Lok Sabha seats bagged by the BJP. "At many places, our party offices are under lock and key and party's grassroots workers have become defunct. In such a situation, hoisting national flags at so many places will be a challenge," said a BJP leader.

DEFENSIVE MOVE

Mamata to 'expose' job scams of former Left regime

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

A day after her party's secretary general Partha Chatterjee was grilled by the CBI in connection with alleged scam in school recruitments, Trinamool Congress chief and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee threatened to "unfold the irregularities" in government recruitment during the Left Front regime.

"The CPI (M) would issue hand-written chits which used to be enough to get government jobs. I have not disclosed it till date showing my political courtesy. From now on, I will unfold the chapters one after another," Mamata said on Thursday while addressing a rally in Jhargram, which was once the epicentre of Maoist movement in Jungle Mahal.

Political observers in the state said Mamata's threat is a counter to the CPI(M)'s attempt to use the ongoing controversy as a political tool against the ruling party.

Launching a blistering attack on both the CPI(M) and the BJP, Mamata accused the two parties of being allies in Bengal. "They are two brothers in West Bengal's politics and Bengal's voters are aware of it. These two parties are trying to resist us from doing development works. But the TMC cannot be stopped," she said.

Cong intensifies bid to woo Naresh Patel in damage-control move

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad/New Delhi

IN a move to firefight the situation arising out of Hardik Patel's exit, senior leaders of Gujarat Congress met Patidar leader and chairman of the Shree Khodaldham Trust Naresh Patel on Thursday to discuss the possibilities of his joining the party.

The Congress leaders, including AICC in-charge Raghu Sharma and Gujarat Pradesh Congress Committee (GPCC) president Jagdish Thakor, are in Rajkot for the grand old party's Saurashtra zonal 'Chintan Shivir'.

Sharma and Thakor were accompanied by Congress Legislature Party leader Sukhram Rathva and other office-bearers and elected leaders of the party during a meeting with Naresh Patel, who belongs to the influential Leuva patel sect of Patidar community. The Congress has been in talks to induct Naresh but it has been delayed for several reasons.

One of the Congress leaders said: "Yes, We met over breakfast at Naresh Patel's farm. It was a courtesy meeting." Naresh, too, called it a courtesy meeting.

Three days ago, Hardik also had met Naresh Patel at Khodaldham. He was accompanied by Alpesh Katheriya, convenor of the Patidar Anamat Andolan Samiti (PAAS), and PAAS functionary Dinesh Bambhaniya. PAAS had spearheaded the Patidar agitation, led by Hardik.

About his meeting with Congress leaders, Naresh said: "Two days ago, Raghu Sharma called, expressing his desire to meet me. Subsequently, a few Congress MLAs also got in touch with me about Sharma's desire to meet me. I told them that they are welcome."

Hardik quipped about the meeting of Congress leaders with Naresh, saying, "What do you think the Congress leaders would have discussed in the 15-minute meeting?"

Even after meeting top leaders of the BJP, Congress, and AAP, Naresh hasn't made a final decision.

A source said Naresh Patel will neither join Congress nor BJP. He will lead his son Shivraj to the ruling BJP and help him win elections. Moreover, he will take the responsibility of winning seats for BJP in Saurashtra and Surat and will reserve his place in Delhi by fulfilling this responsibility well.

Buzz about Patidar leader joining saffron camp rife

NEW DELHI: While Hardik Patel has been denying that he would join the BJP, speculations are rife that the Patidar leader might walk the saffron path sooner or later. Sources in the BJP claimed that Hardik won't get as much respect and opportunities in other parties that he would receive in the BJP. "If a leader with such a public appeal resigns from a party, it takes a few days for him to decide the way go to move on. He might be facing a dilemma," said a senior BJP leader, anticipating Patel's entry to the party in the coming days. "He continues lashing out at the Congress for having no leadership vision. Has he ever spoken a single word against us (BJP)?" said another senior BJP leader, hinting at a strong possibility of Patel joining the party soon in the presence of either JP Nadda or Amit Shah. Hardik attacks 'use and throw' policy of Congress, praises 'non-partisan' BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Ahmedabad

A day after resigning from the Congress, Patidar leader Hardik Patel on Thursday branded the party as "highly communal, anti-Hindu, anti-Gujarati" — in clear hints to his next destination, the BJP.

Hardik said he felt sorry for asking the people in Gujarat to vote for Congress.

Addressing media persons in Ahmedabad, Hardik said he had dreamed of doing big things when he joined the Congress. "Congress benefitted from us in the elections. While working in the party from 2019 to 2022, I came to know that Congress is only doing caste politics. Congress used Patidars in 2015 and 2017 and wants to use Patidars in 2022 too. I apologise to people of Gujarat for seeking votes for such a party in 2017. I am sorry I wasted my three years. I have resigned from the Congress party with great pride," he said.

Accusing the Congress of doing injustice to Patidar leaders, Hardik claimed several MLAs in Gujarat had been used by the Congress and thrown away when the party's needs were met. Chiman Bhai was thrown out by the Congress in the same way Vitthal Radadia and Narhari Amin were removed.

On the other hand, Hardik showered praises on BJP. 'The BJP government gave 10 per cent reservation which directly benefited the Patidars. We were agitating but the government gave 10 per cent reservation to the economically weaker sections with an open heart. In BJP, every community is given the same priority," he said.

Attacking Rahul Gandhi again, Hardik said: "Whenever Rahul Gandhi comes to Gujarat, people in Delhi advise him to not work hard in Gujarat because there would be no result. The only concern of Congress leaders was from where they can arrange Rahul Gandhi's chicken sandwich and diet coke."

Gujarat Congress president Jagdish Thakor said Hardik's allegations were baseless and designed to hurt the party.

Legal trouble for Digvijaya as he readies to rebuild Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

TASKED by the Madhya Pradesh Congress leadership with rebuilding the grand old party in the Gwalior-Chambal region, the state's former CM Digvijaya Singh may well land in legal trouble in the same Gwalior in near future over his 2019 statements against the ruling BJP.

The Special Court for MP/ MLA cases in Gwalior has quashed a subordinate court's January 2020 order that dismissed a plea by an RSS worker for initiating proceedings against Singh for making "defamatory" statements against the BJP and the Bajrang Dal.

The entire matter pertains to Singh's reported statements in Bhind district on August 31, 2019, in which he reportedly accused the members of BJP and Bajrang Dal of taking money from ISI and spying in India. He had reportedly said that more non-Muslims have been caught spying for the ISI in India.

Senior advocate Avdhesh Singh Bhadoriya, who is also an RSS worker, had filed the plea.

TENSION AFTER ATTACK ON MARRIAGE PROCESSION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

IN the latest incident of communal flare up in Madhya Pradesh, a town in Rajgarh district of the state witnessed tension after a marriage procession of the Scheduled Caste community was allegedly attacked by some youth belonging to the minority over playing of loud music in front of a place of worship.

According to bride Anju Malviya's cousin Ankit, the marriage procession had come to Jeerapur town (Rajgarh) from Susner in the adjoining Agar-Malwa district. "When the procession was passing near a mosque, some men objected to the loud music in the procession, after which music was stopped. The music resumed while the procession reached near a temple. Much to our surprise, some youth from the minority community armed with stones and swords attacked the procession from behind, leaving around five to six people, including a little girl injured," Ankit alleged.

"So far eight men have been arrested. Arms license of six men have been cancelled and the encroachments made by the accused are being bulldozed," Rajgarh SP Pradeep Sharma said.

After inconclusive Centre-Naga talks, govt tightens grip on extortion rackets

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

FIVE days after the Centre holding inconclusive peace talks with the National Socialist Council of Nagaland (Isak-Muivah), the Nagaland government on Thursday issued strict orders to the police and security forces to crack the whip on extortion rackets in the state.

According to a May 19 Nagaland government notification, a copy of which is in the possession of this newspaper, "despite several directives in the past to curb illegal collection of money from vehicles on the roads, reports continue to be received that there has been no let up in the menace indulged in by organisations, groups, government agencies, private individuals, etc."

The notification appears to be an outcome of the deliberations that Nagaland Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio, Deputy CM Yanthungo Patton and United Democratic Alliance (UDA) chairman T R Zeliang held with Union Home Minister Amit Shah on May 18.

"This is a direct result of negative reports that the political leadership, both at the Centre and in Nagaland have been steadily receiving, for months, that ordinary citizens having bearing the brunt of extortionist practices by insurgent outfits who are otherwise involved in peace talks with the central government's interlocutor A K Mishra," a senior Nagaland government official told this newspaper.

The notification, issued by Nagaland Chief Secretary J Alam, lists more than a dozen steps. First, all police check gates, except the existing interstate check gates shall be closed forthwith. Secondly, the check gates set up by other departments "shall also be immediately closed, except interstate check-gates which may function till May 31". However, "beyond that date, they shall function only after obtaining a specific approval of the Home Department".

Ukraine soldiers surrender, Russian pleas for forgiveness

- Moscow says 1,730 troops who defended Azovstal steel plant lay down arms
- Kyiv prosecutors lists 12,595 alleged war crimes by the invaders till date

KYIV

RUSSIA said Thursday that 1,730 Ukrainian soldiers had surrendered this week at the Azovstal steel plant in Mariupol, showing some emerging on crutches after a desperate battle that has become emblematic of the nearly three-month-old war.

The number included 80 who were wounded and taken to a hospital in Russia-controlled territory in eastern Ukraine, the defence ministry in Moscow said.

Russian troops patted down those surrendering and inspected their bags as they exited, signalling the effective end of what Ukraine's government had called a "heroic" resistance.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said it had registered "hundreds of Ukrainian prisoners of war" from the plant in Mariupol, a port city obliterated by Russian shelling.

Ukraine is hoping to exchange the Azovstal soldiers for Russian prisoners. But pro-Kremlin authorities in Ukraine's eastern Donetsk region said some of them could be put on trial.

Ukrainian prosecutors have so far listed 12,595 alleged war crimes by the invaders, including the bombing of a maternity ward in Mariupol, and on Wednesday opened the first trial of a Russian soldier.

Vadim Shishimarin pleaded guilty to a war crime in shooting dead Oleksandr Shelipov, an unarmed 62-year-old man, in northeastern Ukraine on February 28 — four days into the invasion. The 21-year-old sergeant, who faces a life sentence, was remorseful as he took the dock for a second day on Thursday, as two other Russian soldiers went on trial elsewhere in Ukraine.

While Mariupol has fallen, Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky said the wider invasion was an "absolute failure" as he marked "Vyshyvanka Day", an annual celebration of Ukrainian folk traditions. Zelensky's defiance, and his army's dogged resistance, have earned the West's admiration and a steady flow of military support. G7 finance ministers were meeting in Germany to thrash out more cash support.

Famine warning

Russia's actions are already redrawing the security map of Europe.

US President Joe Biden hosted the leaders of Finland and Sweden to discuss their bids to join NATO.

Beyond Europe, the invasion also threatens to bring famine, UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres said. "Malnutrition, mass hunger and famine" could follow "in a crisis that could last for years," Guterres warned, urging Russia to release grain exports from occupied Ukraine.

Meanwhile, the US Congress approved a $40 billion aid package for Ukraine Thursday, the latest tranche of US assistance under President Joe Biden's promise of unwavering support for Kyiv in its fight against Russia's invasion.

But despite their last-ditch resistance in places such as Mariupol, Ukrainian forces are retreating in the east. AFP

'NATO addressing Turkey's concerns'

Copenhagen: NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said Thursday that 'concerns' raised by Turkey over the Sweden and Finland's applications to the military alliance were being addressed. "Of course, we are addressing the concerns that Turkey has expressed," to find "an agreement on how to move forward," said Stoltenberg, after Turkey opposed the applications over what it considers leniency toward Kurdish militant groups. Russia prepared for food crisis since last year: Kremlin aide

Moscow: Russia has taken steps to prepare itself for a food crisis threatening the world even before President Vladimir Putin sent troops to Ukraine, a Kremlin aide said on Thursday. Russia and Ukraine alone produce 30% of the global wheat supply. Moscow's military campaign in Ukraine and a barrage of unprecedented international sanctions on Russia have disrupted supplies of fertiliser, wheat and other commodities from both countries, pushing up prices for food and fuel. "Russia is actively preparing for global famine, it started at the end of last year," said Putin adviser Maxim Oreshkin. AFP

Key moments in the battle for Mariupol

MARCH 2: A week after the Russian invasion of Ukraine, Moscow's artillery begins pounding Mariupol. The mayor accuses Russian forces and pro-Russian fighters of seeking to "impose a blockade" by cutting off food supplies and vital infrastructure

MARCH 9: Russia targets a building housing a maternity ward and paediatric hospital in Mariupol, killing three people. Ukraine and the EU accuse Russia of a war crime. Russia claims the building is sheltering Ukrainian nationalists.

MID-MARCH: Start of the evacuation of thousands of civilians from the city through a humanitarian corridor. Earlier evacuation attempts had collapsed with both sides accusing the other of failing to halt fire.

MARCH 16: Russian air strikes raze a theatre sheltering hundreds of people, mostly women and children. It takes days to reach survivors trapped in an underground shelter. Ukrainian authorities estimate 300 people were killed. Moscow denies the attack, blaming Ukraine's far-right Azov battalion.

MARCH 21: Kyiv rejects a first Russian ultimatum to Ukrainian forces in the city to surrender. Civilians who manage to escape in their own vehicles describe apocalyptic scenes of streets riddled with dead bodies and a hellish struggle to survive hunger and cold amid relentless Russian bombardments.

APRIL 4: Mariupol's mayor says 90% of the city has been destroyed. A week later, Ukrainian forces say they are preparing for a 'last battle' at the Azovstal steelworks. Over the following week, Russia issues a string of ultimatums to troops at Azovstal surrender. Regional officials say death toll could exceed 20,000.

APRIL 21: Vladimir Putin declares the 'liberation' of Mariupol to be a 'success'. He orders the Russian military to refrain from storming the Azovstal plant, telling them to besiege it instead.

MAY 7: Ukraine's government announces that all women, children and the elderly sheltering in the plant have been evacuated.

MAY 9: Pro-Russian forces in Mariupol hold a parade through the ruined streets to commemorate the Soviet victory over Nazi Germany during World War II. Five days later, a Ukrainian group, Kalush Orchestra, wins the Eurovision song contest and appeal for help for soldiers holed up inside the plant.

MAY 17: A first group of more than 260 Ukrainian soldiers surrenders to Russian forces. They are taken captive, with the wounded admitted to a hospital in a Russian-controlled Donetsk.

MAY 19: 1,730 Ukrainian fighters have surrendered, says Moscow. Their fate is uncertain. Ukraine wants to swap them for Russian prisoners of war but a pro-Russian separatist suggests some will be put on trial.

'Partygate' probe ends, no more fines for Johnson

LONDON

LONDON police said on Thursday they had completed their probe into the 'Partygate' scandal rocking Boris Johnson's government, issuing a final wave of fines but no more for the prime minister.

The Metropolitan Police said in a statement that of the fines issued for breaching Covid restrictions, 73 were to women and 53 to men but that some people received more than one fixed penalty notice.

The police were called in to investigate gatherings at Downing Street and across government departments on eight dates between May 2020 and April 2021.

Last week, the force said it had issued more than 100 fines.

The exact amount of the penalties has not been confirmed, but the fines can range from £30 to £10,000 (35-11,800 euros, $37-12,400) for the most serious breaches.

Those fined so far include Johnson, his wife Carrie and finance minister Rishi Sunak. Johnson's fine — the first for a sitting British prime minister — prompted calls for him to resign or be forced out.

The government said they were fined for a gathering in Downing Street marking the prime minister's birthday in June 2020, but that he would not receive another fine.

"The Met has confirmed that they're taking no further action with regards to the prime minister," Johnson's spokesman told journalists after the police announcement. AFP

Two activists sent back to jail: Reports

Tehran: Two Iranian activists have been sent back to jail on suspicion of "plotting against national security" while on provisional release. One of them, Kevyan Samimi, who is close to the nationalist and religious opposition, is a veteran dissident who served jail time both before and after the Islamic revolution of 1979. Samimi "has been sent back to prison at the end of his furlough for resuming his activities," Mehr news agency said. State news agency IRNA said women's rights and labour activist Narges Mansouri was also arrested. Mansouri was detained in August 2019 before being released on bail in November that year, reports said. She was later accused of giving "provocative interviews with the aim of starting riots" in the country, IRNA said. AFP

Ban on oil exports to be lifted from Monday

Jakarta: Indonesia will lift its ban on palm oil exports next week, President Joko Widodo relieving pressure on the global vegetable oil market after prices spiked because of the suspension and the war in Ukraine. The country issued the ban last month to secure supplies of the commodity, used in a range of goods from chocolate spreads to cosmetics, in the face of a domestic shortage. "Based on the supply... of cooking oil and considering there are 17 million people in the palm oil industry - farmers and other supporting workers - I decided that cooking oil exports will reopen on Monday, May 23," Widodo told an online briefing. "The government will still be monitoring everything strictly to ensure the demand will be met with affordable prices," he said. Indonesia produces about 60% of the world's palm oil. AFP

More ruling party MPs quizzed over Sri Lanka violence

COLOMBO

SRI Lankan police on Thursday questioned three more members of the ruling SLPP parliamentary group over the violent clashes between anti- and pro-government protesters in the country that killed at least 10 people and injured over 200 others.

On May 9, violence erupted in Sri Lanka after supporters of former prime minister Mahinda Rajapaksa attacked peaceful anti-government protesters demanding his ouster over the country's worst economic crisis that led to acute shortages of staple food, fuel and power.

Nihal Thalduwa, the police spokesman, said three former ministers were quizzed on Thursday in Parliament by a group of police's CID investigators. Two of their colleagues who were arrested previously have been remanded till May 25.

Thalduwa said 1,059 people have been arrested for attacks on the protesters and for the violence unleashed against the ruling parliamentarians where some 78 government parliamentarians had suffered arson attacks on property.

Thalduwa said the death toll from violence had risen to 10 with the death of a person admitted to hospital with serious head injuries dying on Thursday.

Politicians were charged with encouraging them to attack the protesters. At least two of them, a former state minister and another MP, who had been identified in video footage as instigators of violence were arrested and remanded.

The government parliamentarians blamed police inaction as the cause of arson attacks against their private properties. They charged the opposition Janatha Vimukthi Peramuna (JVP) with instigating violence which was vehemently denied by the Marxist party.

The mob destroyed several tents and other structures erected at Galle Face and also attacked some of the demonstrators.

The violence saw arson attacks on the homes of several politicians, including the ancestral home of the Rajapaksas in Hambantota. PTI

No shoot-on-sight orders given during violence: PM

Colombo: Sri Lankan Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe told Parliament on Thursday that no shoot-on-sight orders were issued to the Defence Ministry amidst violent anti-government protests in the island nation. On May 10, Sri Lanka's Ministry of Defence ordered the Army, the Air Force and the Navy personnel to open fire on anyone looting public property or causing harm to others. However, Wickremesinghe said that no such order has been issued in writing, the Colombo Gazette news portal reported. PTI

Eye on China, Biden heads for S Korea, Japan

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Joe Biden departs on a six-day trip to South Korea and Japan aiming to build rapport with the two nations' leaders while also sending an unmistakable message to China: Russia's faltering invasion of Ukraine should give Beijing pause about its own saber-rattling in the Pacific. Biden departed on Thursday and is set to meet newly-elected South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol and Japanese PM Fumio Kishida.

Their talks will touch on trade, increasing resilience in the global supply chain, growing concerns about North Korea's nuclear program and the explosive spread of Covid in that country. While in Japan, Biden will also meet with fellow leaders of the Indo-Pacific strategic alliance known as the Quad. The US under Biden has forged a united front with democratic allies that has combined their economic heft to make Russia pay a price for its invasion of Ukraine. But even as Biden is to be feted by Yoon at a state dinner, he knows those relationships need to be deepened if they're to serve as a counterweight to China's ambitions. AP

Bush gaffe on 'unjustified' war draws Iraqi ire

Baghdad: An embarrassing slip of the tongue by former US president George W. Bush may have drawn laughter from his American audience, but it raised the ire of Iraqis. In a speech on Wednesday evening in Dallas about Russia's war on Ukraine, Bush called the invasion of Iraq, which he himself ordered, "unjustified and brutal" — before quickly correcting himself. The 2003 US-led invasion of Iraq toppled dictator Saddam Hussein and ushered in one of the bloodiest periods in the country's modern history. AFP

Investors lose 7L cr as markets fall

Sensex closed 1,416.30 lower at 52,792.23, and the Nifty fell 431 points to 15,809.40

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INVESTORS lost ₹7 lakh crore as Indian benchmark indices nose-dived more than 2.5% on Thursday, its biggest single-day fall in two months, as the markets across Asia-Pacific witnessed widespread selling following the mayhem in Wall Street on the previous day.

The 30-share index, Sensex, opened with a loss of 1,138 points on Thursday over the previous day's close, while the broader Nifty opened with a gap of 323 points. At close, the Sensex closed 1,416.30 points, or 2.61%, lower at 52,792.23, and the Nifty fell 431 points, or 2.65%, to 15,809.40.

This fall made investors poorer by ₹6.76 lakh crore in a day with the m-cap of companies listed on the BSE coming down to ₹249.38 lakh crore at the end of Thursday's trading session.

"The meltdown in the US markets, on fear of aggressive rate hikes, rattled investors and triggered a weak start. The situation worsened further due to heavy selling in the index majors across sectors wherein IT and metal majors were among the top losers," said Ajit Mishra, VP - Research, Religare Broking. IT heavyweights such as Wipro, HCL Technologies, TCS, Tech Mahindra and Infosys were among the top Nifty losers, falling up to 6%.

"This fall indicates that bears are in control as the Nifty has completely reversed the recent gains and again reached closer to the March low. And, indications from the global indices, especially US markets are pointing toward a further decline. Traders should align their positions accordingly," added Mishra.

Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (Retail), Kotak Securities, said investors fretted over stagflation risks and Federal Reserve's more hawkish stance to rein in inflation by opting for more rate hikes, which would have a bigger impact on the economy going ahead.

TATA VS MISTRY

SC dismisses Cyrus Mistry's review plea

PRATHMA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday dismissed a review petition filed by Shapoorji Pallonji Group challenging the top court's last year's order where the top court had ruled in favour of Tata.

The case was heard by a bench led by Chief Justice NV Ramana, along with a plea to expunge certain remarks against Mistry in the judgment.

The bench, however, ordered the deletion of certain observations made against Cyrus Mistry in the March 2021 verdict.

Senior advocate Harish Salve, appearing for Tata Group, said the court may permit the deletion of one or a few sentences not for the reasons given in the application of the SP group.

The top court had passed the March 2021 judgment in favour of Tatas by setting aside the order of the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal that allowed reinstatement of Mistry as chairman of Tata Sons.

"…all the questions of law are liable to be answered in favour of the appellants Tata group and the appeals filed by the Tata Group are liable to be allowed and the appeal filed by SP Group is liable to be dismissed."

The top court had observed in its last year's order. Meanwhile, Tata Sons welcomed the court's order.

Cars24 lays off 600 employees, calls it 'business as usual'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

USED-CAR marketplace Cars24 has laid off nearly 600 employees. This comes at a time when many start-ups are hit by layoffs. In the last few weeks, edtech companies Vedantu and Unacademy together have laid off over 1,000 employees.

As per a recent report, there has been a 27% decrease in start-up funding in April.

In September last year, the Cars24 raised $450 million, and in just two months, again in December, it raised $400 million. The company was valued at $3.3 billion last year. When asked about the layoff, the company's spokesperson told TNIE this is business as usual- performance-linked exits that happen every year.

The SoftBank and Alpha Wave Global-backed company has shown tremendous growth over the past year, and has fast-tracked its expansion plans in India and globally. "As part of our growth plan, we also launched 7 mega refurbishment labs in India. We have been aggressively hiring the right talent across departments to build a stronger talent pool. In the earlier year, we hired over 8000 people and 127 people in April," the company said.

Launched in 2015, the leading e-commerce platform for preowned vehicles has presence in the Middle East, Australia and Southeast Asia, apart from India.

Indian tech companies to continue hiring despite global gloom: Experts

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

Even as some big global IT companies have freezed hiring, experts believe the Indian IT industry will continue recruiting resources. Facebook, Netflix and Twitter are some of the big global tech companies that have announced a hiring freeze.

Indian tech majors like Wipro and Flipkart have confirmed to TNIE that they will continue to hire for roles across levels.

"The pandemic has accelerated gigital transformation and there is an increased demand for talent. We are ramping up our hiring and have onboarded double the time of freshers in FY22 vs FY21. We plan to hire 30,000 freshers in FY23, which will be more than double the number we hired in FY22," Wipro said. A Flipkart spokesperson also added that the firm will continue hiring as per needs, including hiring from campuses. Yeshab Giri, chief commercial officer, Staffing, Randstad India, says hiring freezes in technology companies are reflective of the business challenges some of them are facing. "This is also a result of higher cost of borrowing and plummeting share prices of some of these companies."

As for start-up layoffs in India, experts say it is specific to some companies, particularly in ed-tech as they received funds influenced by pandemic-induced shifts, but are now resorting to cost-cutting for the post-pandemic era, to sustain.

Global companies that hire for tech roles in India like Twitter, Uber and AWS, however, declined to comment on it.

Niraj Agarwal, director, strategy & operations at Turing, says, "Over time, we have seen an increasing response from the firms in Silicon Valley willing to hire from talent pool in India. Keeping this in mind, we do not anticipate the current hiring freeze situation to last long." Given current demand momentum and India's position as a global digital hub, the Indian IT industry continues to hire resources with digital skills to fuel imminent tech transformations, according to Vijay Sivaram, CEO, Quess IT Staffing.

OMCs increase LPG cylinder price by ₹3.5

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Oil marketing companies (OMC) on Thursday increased the price of 14 kg domestic LPG cylinder by ₹3.50 with immediate effect.

This is the second hike within a month, and with this a 14 kg cylinder will cost ₹1,003 in Delhi. In Mumbai, the domestic LPG price will be ₹1,002.50 per cylinder, in Kolkata, a consumer will have to shell out ₹1,029 for a 14 kg cylinder. At the same time, a customer will have to spend ₹1,058.50 in Chennai after the hike. The hike comes on the back of a ₹50 per cylinder increase effected on May 7. Prior to that, prices were increased by the same amount on March 22, 2022.

OMCs have increased the price of 19 kg commercial LPG cylinders by ₹102 to ₹2,355.5 in Delhi on May 1, 2022. The price of a 5-kg LPG commercial cylinder was also increased to ₹655.

After the result of assembly elections, the prices of petrol, diesel, and LPG are being increased continuously.

Govt to use power sector infra for 5G deployment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

To reduce cost, the Department of Telecom (DoT) may use infrastructure owned by the power sector distributors for deployment of 5G small cells (small 5G towers).

The government will make alliances with power Discoms, cable operators and municipal authorities for using their utility poles for small cells deployment and providing optical fiber backhaul to these cells.

"To reduce the carbon footprint of telecom networks and reduce deployment cost of the upcoming 5G network, it is imperative to promote collaboration of the telecom industry with other infrastructure sectors," said Trai chairman P D Vaghela, during the roundtable discussion on Collaborative Regulations: Co-creation and Sharing of Infrastructure. He further said all stakeholders need to have an approach where focus is not creating more and more greenfield infrastructure, but to re-use brownfield assets.

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) is of the view that the cross-sector partnership between telecom and Power sector can benefit both sectors. During the discussion, the regulatory body also deliberated how effectively street furniture, available under various administrative setups like smart cities, airports, ports and metro or railway can be used for deployment of 5G networks. They suggested the use of street furniture available with these authorities will obviate the need to have greenfield deployment of towers or poles for small cells. It will also bring down the capital expenditure for telecom operators.

The government is likely to hold a 5G spectrum auction in early June. However, for the rollout of 5G services, operators will need to install small cells, a term used for a miniature radio access point (AP) or wireless network base station. The small cells enhance cellular network coverage and capacity in areas. In simple term, a small cell is a 5G tower, and has the same characteristics of the classic base stations.

Prestige Estates' sales exceed DLF, Godrej and Macrotech in FY22

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

BENGALURU-based Prestige Estates has pipped DLF, Godrej Properties and Macrotech Developers (Lodha) when it comes to sales booking during financial year 2022.

DLF, the country's largest realtor in terms of m-cap, in its investor presentation said that its sales bookings jumped over two-fold to ₹7,273 crore in FY22 from ₹3,084 crore in FY21.

In contrast, Prestige Estates had reported a 90% year-on-year increase in its sales bookings to a record ₹10,382 crore in FY22, which was more than what Macrotech had reported for last fiscal. The Mumbai-based realtor's sales booking in FY22 grew by 51% year-on-year to ₹9,024 crore. Godrej Properties' sales bookings increased 17% to ₹7,861 crore, out of which ₹7,781 crore came from the residential properties.

Anuj Puri, Chairman of property consultant ANAROCK Group, said that one of the prime reasons why Prestige Estates has performed well is because of its presence in core market like Bengaluru which has performed quite well in the last quarter of the FY 2022 in terms of both housing sales and new launches. "As per ANAROCK Research, Bengaluru saw housing sales of nearly 13,450 units in Q4FY22, recording yearly growth of over 55%. Meanwhile, new launches stood at 13,210 units in the same quarter, increasing by 72% on yearly basis," said Puri. Last month, Prestige had said in FY23, the group plans to launch over 15 mn sq-ft of realty projects in Mulund and Pali Hill in Mumbai, Bengaluru, Delhi-NCR and Chennai, among others.

Suzuki Motorcycle, Maruti to put ₹20k cr in Haryana facility

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

INDIA'S largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki and two-wheeler maker Suzuki Motorcycle will invest over ₹20,000 crore in their new Haryana plant in Kharkhoda that would be spread over 900 acres of land.

Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) says it would the biggest investment made by an auto-maker in India and the new facility, which in the first phase, would roll out 2,50,000 units by 2025 can produce up to 10 lakh units by 2030.

"The potential for growth in India is huge, both in the domestic and the export markets and the new plant will play a big role in meeting this demand. If the market conditions in India remain favourable, we expect to reach 1 minion units in about 8 years time," said RC Bhargava, Chairman, MSIL.

The carmaker on Thursday signed the land allotment with the Haryana government to build its third and largest manufacturing facility yet in Haryana's Kharkhoda. Haryana chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar said that the two plants will create over 13,000 jobs out of which some 10,000 will be directly available to residents of Haryana as the state has 75% jobs quota for the locals.

Maruti Suzuki had last week announced that it is investing ₹11,000 crore in the first phase to set up a new manufacturing facility in Haryana. On Thursday, the carmaker said that its new plant spread across 800 acres involves total investment of about ₹18,000 crore.

Suzuki Motorcycle India has secured 100 acres of land parcel adjacent to the MSIL plot against Rs 266 crore from Haryana State Industrial and Infrastructure Development Corporation (HSIIDC). The plant will be rolling out Suzuki two-wheelers at an investment of about Rs 1,400 crore. In total, about ₹2,400 crore has been spent on the purchase of 900 acres of land. Kenichi Ayukawa, CEO, MSIL, said that while the first facility in Gurgaon was built on 300 acres of land, second one in Manesar was set up on 600 acres, and the new plant will biggest at 800 acres.

In relief for FMCG cos, Indonesia to lift palm oil ban from May 23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDONESIA will lift its palm oil export ban from May 23, following improvements in the domestic cooking oil supply situation, President Joko Widodo announced on Thursday.

Widodo on Thursday said the supply of bulk cooking oil had now reached a level greater than needed, though bulk prices had not yet receded to the targeted 14,000 rupiah per litre, according to news agency Reuters.

"In several regions I know prices of cooking oil were still relatively high, but I believe in coming weeks they will be more affordable," Widodo said in a video statement.

Indonesia, which is the world's top palm oil exporter, on April 28 announced a ban on its exports due to soaring prices of the oil. The lifting of the ban comes as a relief for FMCG companies, which were severely impacted as it's a key ingredient for processing products like cookies, cakes and noodles, etc. Palm oil, which is cheaper as compared to other edible oils, makes for 60% of oil imports. BV Mehta, executive director, the Solvent extractors' Association of India, said, "India imports 3 lakh tonnes of palm oil from Indonesia. Lifting of exports restrictions will ease pressure on prices. Though it will take 15 days to normalise supplies, the announcement alone would change the sentiments in the markets and prices would come down."

The association had earlier said the ban queered the pitch and made life difficult for consumers across the world. "The situation will turn ugly if Indonesia continues to ban export as enough supply from other origins is not available," it had said.

England pacer Archer to miss Test against India

England pace spearhead Jofra Archer has been ruled out of the entire season due to a stress fracture on his lower back, the country's cricket board said on Thursday, which means he will miss the Test against India in July. India are scheduled to play a Test match (carry over from previous series) along with six white-ball games in the month of July.

IPL could go back to 8 PM slot from next edition

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Mumbai

WITH the outcome of the 7.30 PM games in the ongoing edition of the IPL being more or less decided by the toss and television ratings taking a hit, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) is planning to go back to 8 PM starts from the next edition. Although the board has mentioned this only as its 'preferred timing' to those who are bidding for the broadcast rights, it is understood that the franchises also want the matches to be pushed back.

Right through this season where dew played a significant role in the early part of the tournament, teams had preferred to field first as wet conditions made it difficult for bowlers to grip the ball in the second innings. Although the IPL usually started at 8 PM, in 2020 when the tournament was held in the UAE, the BCCI advanced it by half an hour. With viewership improving vastly, it continued with it even when the 2021 season began in India before moving to the gulf. And with broadcasters too benefiting from the move, the BCCI stuck to it for the ongoing season too.

However, like it happened during the UAE leg of the IPL 2021, teams have found the toss playing a significant role in the outcome. With next season set to be spread across the country and franchises set to benefit from gate collection, they too feel starting the matches at 8 PM would benefit them on and off the field. Moreover, the matches were advanced to 7.30 PM as the host broadcaster had been preferring an early start as viewership used to go down post 11 PM on weekdays. However, it has become a common theme for matches to go beyond 11:15 PM, with some going on till 11.40 in a season where not a single match has gone into Super Over.

KOHLI'S HALF-CENTURY KEEPS RCB ALIVE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE IPL 2022 has moved into the final lap, and teams are still fighting for the two remaining Playoff spots. Hence when Royal Challengers Bangalore faced Gujarat Lions, who have already qualified, at the Wankhede Stadium in Mumbai on Thursday, Faf Du Plessis' men had to win the game and stay alive in the race for the Play-offs.

To begin with, RCB started brightly. Gujarat opener Shubman Gill was dismissed for just one run. Even though Wriddhiman Saha (31) and Matthew Wade (16) looked good, Gujarat were 62/3 in the ninth over. It could have been four down the next over, but Hardik Pandya was dropped by Suyash Prabhudessai for 14. His 47-ball 62 eventually helped Gujarat end up with 168/5.

In reply, RCB chased down the score with eight balls to spare to win by eight wickets to move fourth on the table. However, if Delhi Capitals beat Mumbai Indians on Sunday, RCB's journey in the 14th edition will come to an end. From their final group match of the season, there were plenty of positives, including Virat Kohli return to form, who scored a match-winning 73 alongside Du Plessis (44) at the top.

With Kohli having failed to deliver earlier in the season, the right-hander was hell bent on delivering the goods against Gujarat. Chasing 169 to win, the former captain looked in his element playing some of his signature wristy shots against both seamers and pacers. Kohli scored bulk of the runs in the powerplay as RCB were 55/0 and later completed his individual fifty with a six in 33 balls in the 10th over.

After his fifty, the batter knew they were on course for a victory and played sensibly, but was eventually out for 54-ball 73. However, Glenn Maxwell ensured that there was no hiccup with an stroke-filled 18-ball 40 to see his team home in the 19th over.

Brief scores: GT 168/5 in 20 overs (Hardik 62, Miller 34) lost to RCB 170/2 in 18.4 overs (Kohli 73, Du Plessis 44).

Today's match: CSK vs RR @ 7:30 PM

Questions aplenty for men's hockey team

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

IN the early hours of Friday morning, the Indian men's team — a much-changed one — will have landed in Jakarta for the Asia Cup. In terms of the status of the event, it's pretty big. It's a World Cup qualifier. Three of the sides not already qualified for the 2023 World Cup will confirm their qualification in the next 10 days' time.

India do not have such worries. As they are hosting the event, they have already qualified. So the make-up of the squad isn't really a surprise. Saying that, one must note that this largely inexperienced team will be led by Biren Lakra, the defender who retired from the sport after the Olympics (it was originally slated to be led by Rupinder Pal Singh but he had to drop after sustaining a fracture with Lakra acting as deputy). Curiously enough, even if there will be international caps on offer at this event, Hockey India's official website lists the likes of Rupinder, Biren and 12 of the 18 others on the trip as part of their 'A' team. Why? This daily has asked this question multiple times to the federation but no answer has been forthcoming.

That isn't the only question the Asia Cup throws up. When Hockey India decided to send different team to the Commonwealth Games, they took that decision because of the packed calendar. With Asian Games assuming greater importance as it contained an Olympic spot, they formed a new team with a mix of youth of experience, including semi-retired players, to send to Birmingham with the Asia Cup acting as a testing ground for the scratch team.

State Mini Oly: Monish, Swara clinch gold in 100m

BENGALURU: Monish Chandrasekhar and Swara Santosh Sinde clinched gold, clocking 11.4s and 12.9s, in the 100m boys and girls category respectively at the State Mini Olympic Games here on Thursday. Sayinath Vidooti and Himesh Nagaraj won silver and bronze in the boys competition while amongst girls, Apeksha and AS Gagana settled for silver and bronze.

Nikhat flavour of gold

Nizamabad girl becomes the fifth Indian to clinch world title

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

EVEN after winning gold at the world championships in Istanbul, Nikhat Zareen still thinks about the difficult times she had to endure. For all those near-misses and frustrations, it was not easy. "It was difficult but I remained focussed," she said after the victory over Thailand's Jitpong Jutamas.

"After making a comeback in 2018, I was not at the peak level. I missed out on the World Championships. But I didn't give up. After 2019, I have taken every competition as a opportunity and I have tasted success. I have always had faith in myself," she recalled.

If she had a vast number of doubters about her skill sets inside the ring, she had to face an almighty battle to even get into the ring. "Earlier, we wouldn't send girls outside. There were tough conditions. But I had a thought process. We wanted Nikhat to take up a sport," her father, Mohammed Jameel Ahmed, recalled to this daily.

"Nikhat was rough and tough. She would prefer to remain outdoor and spend time with her friends in the locality."

India's Nikhat Zareen (R) celebrates her victory on Thursday | BFI

Sports was obviously in her DNA. In her post victory press conference, she revealed that she had tried her hand in athletics before embracing boxing. That obviously proved to be the correct decision when one saw her welling up with joy following her unanimous 5-0 win on Thursday.

She can now call herself a world champion, a rare honour which has only been accomplished by four Indians before her. This momentous occasion was something that she had dreamt of ever since she took up the sport for the first time. "She had high ambitions, she would tell me she wants to become a world and an Olympic champion. She was hard working in nature as well," former India coach I Venkateswara Rao, who guided Nikhat during her early days, recalls.

Now, she is living the dream. She had been a standout before entering the 52-kg final of the IBA World Championships in Istanbul (Turkey), asserting her dominance to post all her wins by unanimous verdicts.

Nikhat exhibited right amount of aggression and threw some accurate punches to catch her opponent on multiple occasions. The Thai boxer, as expected, was unwilling to submit easily and made the contest interesting by just edging the Indian in the second round.

But Nikhat was relentless in the third and ensured that by taking matters in her hand to secure the contest. She is now keen to repeat the feat in 2024 Paris Olympics.

"I would like to thank BFI, all the coaches. With their support, I'm able to become a world champion. I'll keep working hard and give my best to win at Paris Olympics," Nikhat said.
